TYPHOON FORMS IN NIGHT NEAR HONGKONG

PERRY TROUNCES CRAWFORD

BRILLIANT VICTORY AT FOREST HILLS

SWEEPS THROUGH

FOREST HILLS, SEPT. 10.

AS THE RESULT OF ONE OF THE MOST BRILLIANT PERFORMANCES OF HIS CAREER, F. J. PERRY, ENGLAND'S TENNIS HERO OF THE YEAR, IS THE NEW SINGLES CHAMPION OF THE UNITED STATES.

To-day, he accomplished what no other player has been able to do during the last twelve months—he beat Jack Crawford, holder of the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, in the final of a national championship by 6-3, 11-13, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1.

By so doing he prevented Crawford from establishing a new world's record in lawn tennis. Crawford required only to win to-day to secure all four major tennis titles of the world.

Incidentally, this is the first time in his remarkable career that Perry has won a national singles title.

Perry staged an amazing recovery just when Crawford appeared to have the match in his pocket. A terrific second set went to the Australian after 24 games and he also won the third giving him a lead of two sets to one.

But those who expected to see Perry crack up in the face of such a disadvantage were given the surprise of their lives.

The Englishman took command of the game from that stage and swept through Crawford to win the next two sets with the loss of but one game.

It was an astonishing metamorphosis, emphasised all the more in that Crawford was playing really great tennis up to the end of the third set and had given not the slightest inkling that he would wilt before Perry's attack.

It was noticeable that although contesting every point in the first three sets, Perry was playing well within himself, yet very few spectators, and Crawford, even more so, anticipated that the Englishman had such reserves on which to call.

A REAL ARTIST.

Perry waited for the psychological moment before launching his attack to which Crawford could find no reply. The winning of the second and third sets had quite obviously demanded much of Crawford's stamina, and when Perry started his deep driving and volleying campaign, the Australian found he could not keep up with the pace.

Crawford was the real artist in the first three sets. Beautiful shots flowed from his racket and he appeared to be playing with supreme confidence.

But Perry's stubbornness, although insistent to save the second and third sets, had the effect of forcing Crawford to sustain usual for his winning shots. That was why, when Perry eventually found the opportunity to take the initiative, he met with less resistance than one would have expected.

CRAWFORD GOES TO PIECES.

In a description of the match Reuter says that Perry's victory, although unexpected, was well deserved.

He won the first set by hard driving to the corners, and following up with kills at the net.

The Englishman led 3-1 in the second set, but Crawford rallied and won this and the third set by brainy tennis.

U.S. CURRENCY OUTLOOK

COSTS RISING

New York, Sept. 10.

The possibility of the introduction of a definite currency inflation programme within the next three months is now envisaged.

The inflation scheme in contemplation, according to hints by Mr. Wallace, the Secretary of the Agriculture Department, provides for the reduction of the gold content of the dollar.

The New York Times quotes Mr. Wallace as saying that the people are likely to get impatient in the next three months and to demand a strong dose of inflation unless the disparity between the farmers' incomes and the price he pays for his purchases can be overcome by the increase in costs under the National Recovery Act going into increased purchasing power through pay-rolls and not into increased profits for manufacturers.

NAZI OFFER TO AUSTRIA

FIVE "TERMS OF SETTLEMENT"

LATEST HABICHT BROADCAST

Munich, Sept. 10.

The Nazi leaders responsible for the tension now existing between Austria and Germany are now offering "terms for the peaceful settlement" of the trouble with the Dollfuss Government.

These terms were outlined by Herr Habicht, the famous Nazi "Inspector for Austria" who was deputed from Vienna, in a broadcast address from the Munich station to-night.

He declared that the conditions were as follows:

(1) the re-establishment of the Nazis' rights and liberties as a political party in Austria;

(2) the abolition of legal measures against the members of the Party;

GENERAL ELECTION.

(3) representation in a temporary Cabinet constituted in accordance with the strength of the Nazi Party;

(4) general elections to be held as soon as possible;

(5) the formation of a government in accordance with the election results.

Herr Habicht stressed that the aims of the Nazis were to unite Germany and Austria, but they wished to accomplish this by an arrangement with the Powers concerned and not by force. —Reuter.

NO. 7 SIGNAL UP

LIKELY TO PASS TO SOUTH

STARTS NEAR PRATAS

A typhoon which formed fairly close to the Colony during the night caused the hoisting of the No. 7 Signal soon after seven o'clock this morning.

The disturbance moved very rapidly at first, but later slowed down.

At the moment, no great danger to the Colony is to be feared. The indications are that the typhoon will pass to the south.

According to an official statement issued by the Royal Observatory, the typhoon or depression began to develop south of the Colony about 50 miles to the west of Pratras Shoals and about 120 miles to the south-east of Hong Kong.

MOVING WIDE.

There was no clear indication of its direction early on. It seemed probable that it would move west or north-west.

Shortly after ten o'clock it was stated that the typhoon was about 120 miles to the south-east and apparently moving N.W. It changes course to a more northerly direction and we likely to get a severe blow.

The weather forecast is: North-East Winds, moderate to a gale; cloudy with rain.

South of the Colony, cyclonic scales are to be expected.

The typhoon appears to be of small area.

The warship in port left for their typhoon anchorages this morning shortly after the No. 7 signal was hoisted.

He served in the South African War from 1900 to 1902, was wounded and awarded the Queen's Medal and three clasps, and the King's Medal and two clasps.

He also served throughout the European War from 1914 to 1918, was mentioned in despatches and awarded the D.S.O., C.M.G., and C.B. He retired on pay in 1922.

SENSATIONAL U.S. GAOL BREAK

Three Killed; Thirteen Convicts Escape

New Orleans, Sept. 10.

Three were killed in a desperate riot at Angola Prison to-day. Thirteen long-term prisoners made their escape, frustrating pursuit with a hail of revolver fire.

They stole a car belonging to a visitor and made off after cutting the prison telephone wires. —Reuter.

EVANS OF THE BROKE

UNDERTAKES A NOVEL TASK

MARINES ESCORT ON PEACE MISSION

Capetown, Sept. 11.

Vice-Admiral E. R. G. R. Evans ("Evans of the Broke") the Commander-in-Chief of the Africa Station, who is acting High Commissioner in Bechuanaland, is leaving Simonstown to-day for Bechuanaland.

He will be accompanied by two hundred marines and three howitzers.

Vice-Admiral Evans is travelling inland to investigate a report from the Magistrate at Serowe that a European resident there has been flogged by sentence of the Kgola native court.

He will also arbitrate in a dispute between the native and the European residents of the disturbed area.

It is stated that the Bechuanaland natives are peacefully disposed and it is therefore presumed that the despatch of the marines is a precautionary measure, although it is significant that the flagship, H.M.S. Carlisle hastened from Durban to Simonstown a day early, enabling Admiral Evans and his escort to leave with a minimum of delay.

NOVEL EXPERIENCE.

The task will be a novel experience for Admiral Evans, who has probably had more adventures than most men in the Navy.

As "Evans of the Broke," he is known not only in the Navy, but also to thousands of people who remember how in April, 1917, when in command of the destroyer "Broke," he attacked and defeated, with the help of the "Swift," six German destroyers off Dover.

Before the war, however, he had achieved fame, for he was second in command to Captain Scott in the ill-fated, but heroic expedition to the South Pole, and he has even made his appearance on the lecture platform.

Admiral Evans has been said to be entitled to wear more orders and medals than any other living naval officer.

U.S. NAVAL ARRAY IN CUBA WATERS

ARGENTINE NOTE TO UNITED STATES

TENSE SITUATION

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 10.

THIRTY-NINE AMERICAN WARSHIPS ARE NOW CONCENTRATED IN CUBAN WATERS OR WITHIN A FEW HOURS OF HAVANA, AND WITH THE NEW REVOLUTIONARY REGIME UNDER DR. RAMON GRAU SAN MARTIN STRUGGLING AGAINST ODDS TO ASSERT ITS AUTHORITY, A HIGHLY TENSE SITUATION EXISTS.

Perfect order reigns for the moment, but outlook is causing apprehension, owing to the paradoxical situation in the Army in which the new government proposes that the highest rank shall be that of Colonel and that the sergeants shall choose the officers. Those chosen, however, refuse to serve and stand by Dr. Cespedes.

Talk of intervention by the United States continues, but feeling in South America is illustrated in a Note handed by the Argentine Government to the American Ambassador, welcoming President Roosevelt's ardent desire not to intervene in Cuba and pointing out that youthful nations can work out their own destiny if they are left to their own devices. The New York Herald's Washington correspondent interprets the Note as strong advice not to intervene in any circumstances and looking askance at the U.S. naval array in Cuban waters.

DR. SAN MARTIN'S STATEMENT

News from Norfolk, Virginia, shows that President Roosevelt is not relaxing his watch on the Cuban situation.

He conferred to-day with General Lee, the commander of the U.S. Marine post at Quantico, Virginia, and Commander Williams, the officer commanding the Marine Regiment which has been mobilised there for possible duty in Cuba.

The marines are prepared for immediate movement and should a call come, many of them will be transported to Cuba by aeroplane.

MORE WARSHIPS.

Meanwhile, nine more destroyers have been ordered to Cuba.

It is understood that the United States may refuse to accept Dr. San Martin as President of Cuba, regarding him as a product of revolution.

According to unofficial statements, the recognition of the existing Cuban regime will depend upon its ability to maintain order and to protect life and property.

AMERICA'S ATTITUDE.

President Roosevelt, who will avoid intervention if it is possible, is determined to insist upon complete proof of the new regime's stability and control before granting recognition.

It is understood that the Administration is re-shuffling the naval ships in Cuban waters. The United States cruiser Bainbridge which has been lying in Havana Harbour has been ordered to Puerto Padre.

Five of the nine destroyers now on their way to Cuba have been ordered to Guantanamo, while the remainder will await further orders at Key West, Florida.

SAN MARTIN'S SPEECH.

Meanwhile, Dr. San Martin is still busy endeavouring to organise a government out of the existing political chaos.

He made a speech from the Presidential Palace to-day, in the course of which he said:

"I shall honour all government obligations including public debts to the last penny."

"I swear to fulfil the revolutionary programme with the maximum of respect for all interests established here."

He stressed the desire of Cuba for friendship with the United States.

Despite the disapproval of Communist sympathies by the government committee, Dr. San Martin, in a statement to the United Press, voiced the same "anti-imperialistic" sentiments as the Communists, although in milder form.

REASONS CITED.

"All that the new regime asks of the United States is fair play and a chance to carry out our programme," he said.

"We overthrew Machado because he was a tyrant, and Cespedes because he was a puppet."

"Our aim is to give Cubans opportunity freely to express themselves in the formulating of a new constitution, and not merely improve one elaborated at the American Embassy."

"Cuba is quieter than during the last eight years."

"We have no thought of expelling international debts or treaties."

"The presence of American warships threatens the peace and stability of the Caribbean."

"We are determined to maintain our independence and to protect our interests."

Make Yourself This Smart Picture Hat

IT'S SIMPLY CROCHETED FROM STRIPS OF TWISTED CREPE PAPER

Picture hats serve a double purpose, now that hot days are here. They are the most ornamental type of headgear that you can wear. And, at the same time, they are a big help in the all-important matter of keeping cool.

You can make this wide-brimmed hat with its smart shallow crown. You simply crochet it from one fold of crepe paper!

It is the perfect summer hat, because it comes in the category of the not-too-rough-straw type, yet enough to have a certain casual informality about it that is perfect this season. Moreover, costing so little, you can have a hat for every summer costume!

This hat is made from three colours, sand, vivid green and dark brown. Cut the crepe paper across the grain in one-half inch wide strips. Stretch carefully, then twist the strips loosely. Use a steel crochet hook No. 0. Use the single crochet stitch, inserting your hook each time, in the back half of the stitch.

Here are directions for making the hat:

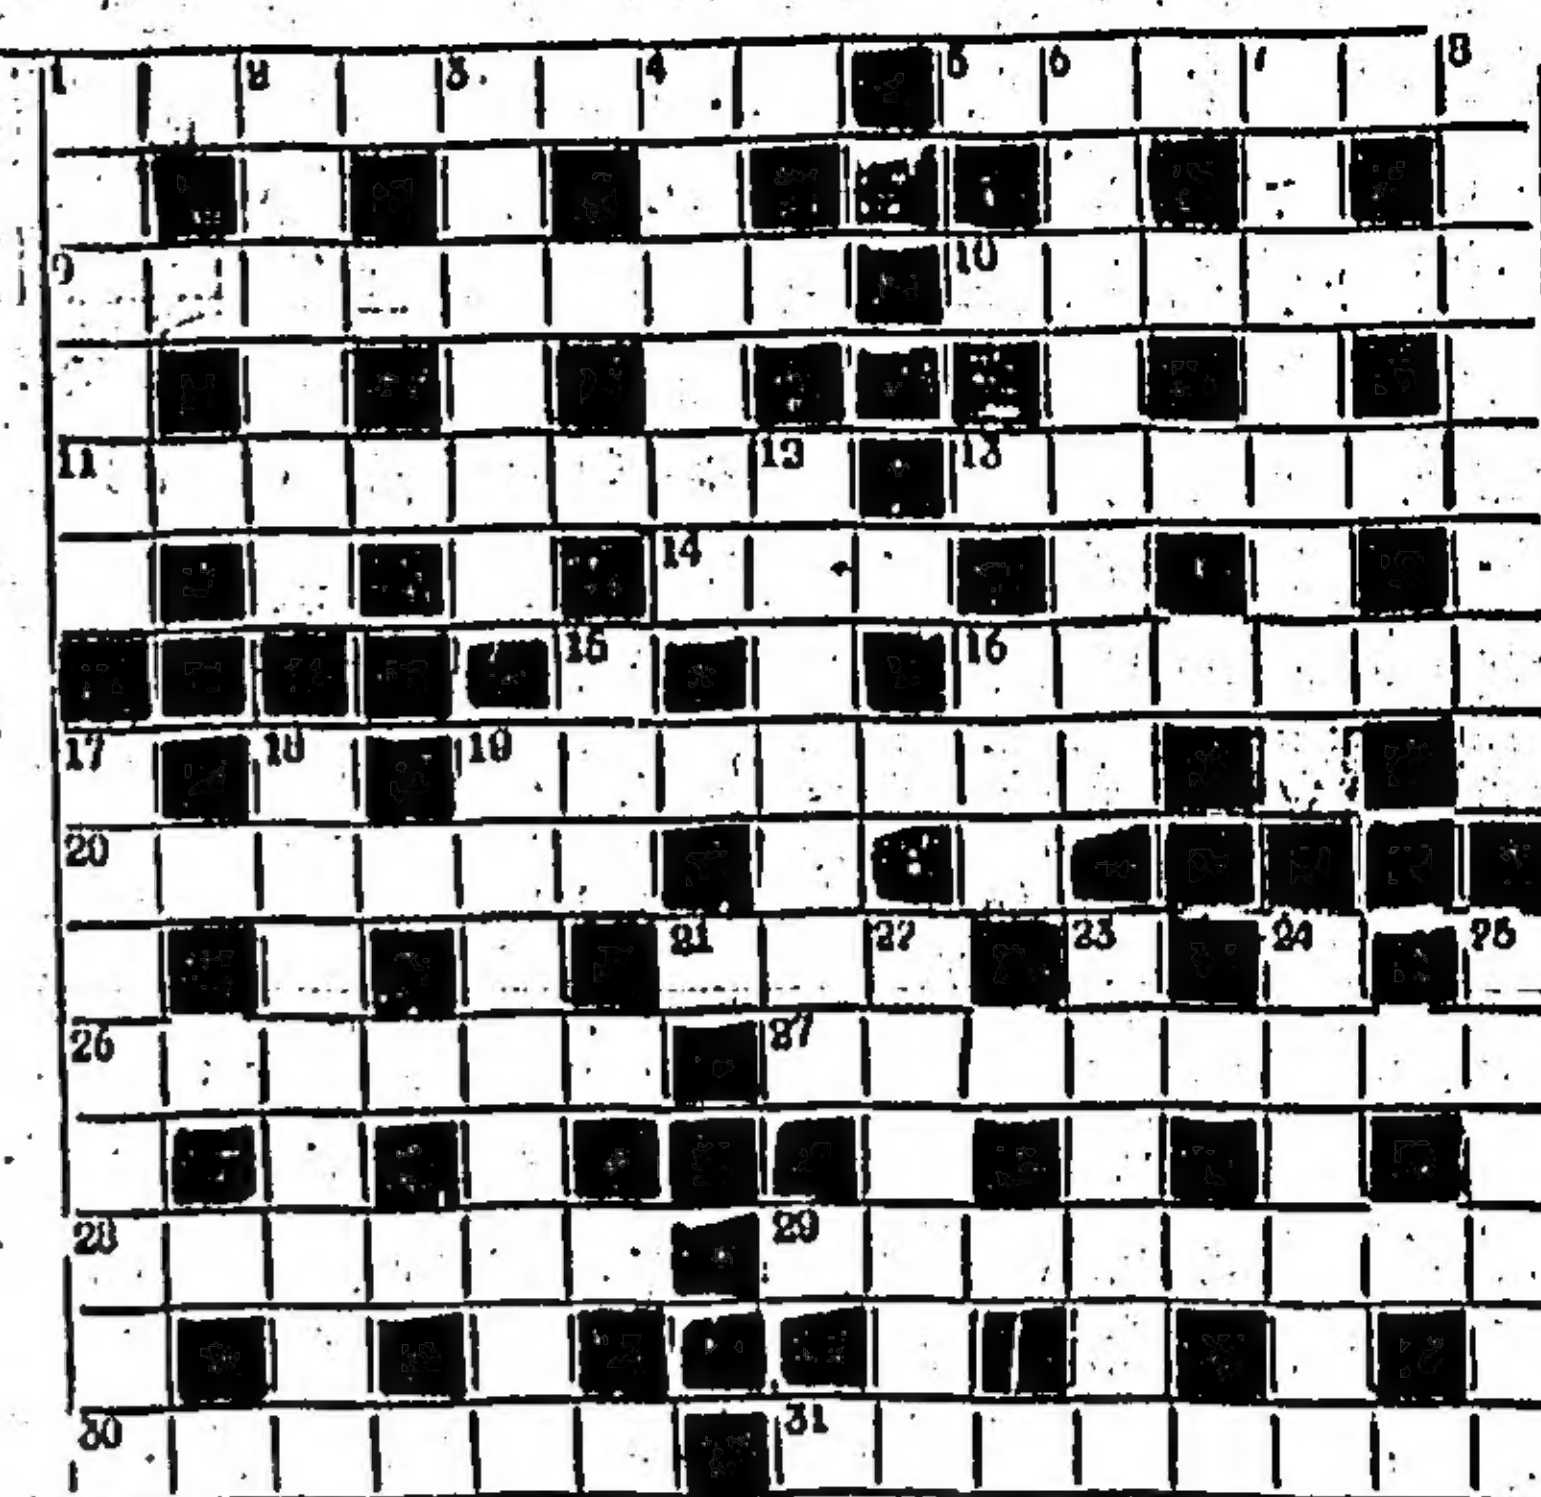

Crown: With the sand crepe paper, chain 3 stitches, put hook in first stitch and slip stitch to form a ring. 1st round: Crochet 7 stitches in ring. 2nd round: Put 2 s. c. in each stitch. 3rd round: 1 s. c. in first stitch, 2 s. c. in next, repeat to end of round. Continue to increase about 6 times in a round, equal distances apart, but not directly over those of the preceding round, so increases will not show. Keep work flat for 6 1-2 inches in diameter. Continue crocheting, 1 stitch in each stitch until the crown is about 1 1-4 inches deep. Break thread, join brown strand and crochet half way around crown, chain 1 stitch, s. c. in 1st stitch, 2 s. c. in next, add green and crochet around repeat to end of round. 6th round: other half of crown. Continue 1 s. c. in each stitch. 7th crocheting in this manner half round: 2 s. c. in every 10th green and half brown for 7 rounds. Brim: With brown crepe, chain half the head size, break thread and add green. Chain the rest of the head size. Crochet 1 round half brown and half green. Break stitch until the crown is about 1 1-4 inches deep. Break thread, join brown strand and crochet half way around crown, chain 1 stitch, s. c. in 1st stitch, 2 s. c. in next, add green and crochet around repeat to end of round. 6th round: other half of crown. Continue 1 s. c. in each stitch. 7th crocheting in this manner half round: 2 s. c. in every 10th stitch. 8th and 9th rounds: 1 s. c. in every stitch. Continue crocheting—adding stitches when needed to keep work flat. Also add about 3 or 4 rounds more on sides to widen the brim. The back should be about 2 3-4 inches wide, the front 3 1-2 inches, and the sides 4 1-4 inches. A wire may be crocheted in the last round or sewed to the under side of brim. A lukewarm iron and dry cloth can be used to smooth out uneven crocheting.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

You'll double your beauty if you get rid of a double chin.

And you'll stand a better chance of retaining your good looks if you take steps to prevent yourself from ever developing one.

Almost nothing detracts from a woman's beauty as much as a double chin. There are things—simply things—which you can do to keep that extra roll of flesh, just below your normal chin, from growing.

All good beauty shops give special treatments which will, in time, reduce a double chin. If you can not afford to take a whole series of treatments, at least go and get one treatment. Watch the operator carefully. Then get the proper tonics and lotions and go home to do the treatments yourself.

You will need, first of all, a patten. Pat your chin, upward and outward, for ten minutes twice a day. Get a patten with a flexible handle and don't strike your flesh hard enough to bruise it.

Special muscle toning lotions are to be used in conjunction with a patten. They strengthen sag-

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Technique of Shrinking Large Pores

By Alicia Hart

Don't treat enlarged pores lightly! Consider them in the same category with any other blemish which mars your beauty.

If you already have enlarged pores, you should take steps immediately to remedy them. If you don't have a single pore which is even slightly enlarged, remember that prevention is always worth while. It's much easier to prevent skin troubles than it is to cure them.

There are various excellent pore creams on the market to-day. Used conscientiously, they tend to your muscles. Astringents are excellent too. Get your beauty shop to recommend a good one.

A chin strap is a necessity if you take your chin-reducing seriously. Have one that really fits the size of your chin and face. It is put on at night before you go to bed and left on all night. Pat your chin with an astringent before you adjust the chin strap.

When your face has been thoroughly cleaned and steamed, press out all the blackheads which come out easily. Be very careful not to bruise the skin.

Then apply a pore cream. Plan to leave it on at least two hours. It is an excellent idea to use it just before you go to bed. That way, the cream remains on all night and you get full benefit from it.

Pore creams are greaseless preparations. They have an astringent quality—that's why your pores shrink if pore cream is used frequently.

For the woman whose pores are enlarged, pore cream can be used every night for a couple of months and then twice a week.

Even if you don't have a single pore which shows under your makeup, it is advisable to use pore cream once a week. Dust and dirt, makeup and inactive cells which cause blackheads and other blemishes may eventually cause pores to become apparent.

END OF KULING CONFERENCETHE ECONOMIC COMMISSION

Nanking, Sept. 9.
Interviewed by Chinese pressmen yesterday, Mr. Sun Fo stated the Kuling discussions ended on September 6. He explained that the leaders had gathered there for an informal exchange of opinion regarding outstanding problems, rather than for a formal conference. Hence no resolution was adopted.

Mr. Sun Fo deprecated the rumours of a changed foreign policy, adding that China's foreign policy was primarily based on the principle of strengthening China's national existence and sovereignty. Regarding the American wheat and cotton loan, Mr. Sun said that a committee would be formed to control funds and supervise expenditure.

He confirmed the report that the National Economic Commission would be enlarged, in order to give it effective and sufficient powers to attend to the economic development of China.

Mr. Sun Fo left for Shanghai last night, while Mr. Wang Ching-wei and the other leaders are returning to Nanking from Kuling to-morrow.—Reuter.

Economic Reorganisation.

Shanghai, Sept. 9.
Interviewed by Reuter this morning, Mr. T. V. Soong confirmed the reported reorganisation of the National Economic Commission. He said that after its reorganisation the Commission will be placed under the charge of a standing committee of three, composed of Mr. Wang Ching-wei, Mr. Sun Fo and Mr. T. V. Soong. The Commission will have full power for the disposal of the American Loan, which will be used solely for construction purposes.

No Government Changes.

Mr. Soong denied the reported reorganisation of the National Government, which was not discussed at the Kuling confabulations.

With reference to the Fifth National Congress, Mr. Soong said the situation was exactly as reported in the press. He added that Mr. Wang Ching-wei would shortly issue a statement in this connexion.

Meets Huang Fu.

Mr. Soong was extremely reticent when asked about the Government's foreign policy.

Peace Offer To Canton.

Nanking, Sept. 9.
Interviewed on his return from Kuling on the gunboat Haiyang, Mr. Wang Ching-wei said that General Chan Chai-tong and other Southern leaders had submitted a proposal to the Central Executive Council for the postponement of the scheduled Fifth National Kuomintang Congress.

Mr. Wang added that the Government was still desirous of sending delegates to Canton to consult the Southerners in regard to national affairs.

Mr. Wang was accompanied by Wu Chih-huei, Chang Ching-kiang, Tang Yu-jen and Tseng Tsung-min. He was very reticent concerning the rumours of Cabinet changes and a revision of China's foreign policy, but denied that Ku Meng-yu, Minister of Railways, had resigned.—Reuter.

THIS QUEER WORLD STRANGE EVENTS OF THE DAY

AN AESOP FABLE COMES TRUE

Queer things, some of them very queer, which happen all over the world are recorded by Reuter Correspondents. Here is a selection:—

A monument to Mr. Thomas Edison, the inventor, is being set up by the villagers of Yahata, in the Kyoto prefecture.

This is why. When Edison was creating the electric lamp, he hit upon the use of Japanese bamboo, after carbonisation, for the filaments.

Hence a demand for bamboo, bringing wealth to Yahata.

Scientists at the American Museum of Natural History are working on a "jig-saw puzzle" with 20,000 pieces.

When completed, the "puzzle" will be a skeleton of one of the rarest of dinosaurs, the "dread-noughts" that inhabited parts of North America millions of years ago.

The "puzzle" may take two years to solve.

A miner in Valencia, Spain, has confessed that he committed a murder 13 years ago.

He says that pangs of conscience prompted him to give himself up. Aesop has been proved right at the John Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Maryland.

Following the annual tortoise race in the hospital grounds, the winner was pitted against a hare.

Just as in the Aesop fable, the tortoise pluggled along steadily and passed the finishing line well ahead of its speedy but erratic rival.

Mr. McDavidson fell from a ninth floor window of his hotel in New York.

He awoke smiling, in hospital, with only a slight bump on his head.

Eight broken window awnings showed where he had fallen.

The days of highwaymen are not past in some parts of Spain.

Twenty masked "men of the road" rode up to a farm near Seville in broad daylight.

They stole the aged farmer's corn, and shot him dead when he tried to frustrate them.

No arrests have yet been made.

And here is the story of another grim survival from the past, says Reuter from Bulawayo, Rhodesia.

A native woman suspected of having caused the death of a number of children by witchcraft was burned to death by three natives who set fire to her hut.

The three men have been sentenced to death at the Salisbury Criminal Sessions.

Fear that a shortage of rabbits will cause foxes to attack lambs.

REMAINS CRUCIFIED FOR AN HOUR

Madrid. Fritz Toepfer, the man who claims that he feels no pain, has caused a sensation in Barcelona. He remained "crucified," with nails through his hands and feet, for one hour.

He attributes his condition to a war accident. He was an aviator in the German army, and was brought down by enemy fire.

On the point of death, he was revived, but since then he has been immune to ordinary pain. Doctors in several countries have studied his case.—Reuter.

has led men to devise a new method of destroying them, says Reuter from Adelaide, South Australia.

The shooter hides in a bush, and blows a special whistle.

The fox thinks it is the squeal of a trapped rabbit, comes out into the open—and is shot.

Jealousy caused a 76-year-old man to quarrel with his wife, aged 70, and to stab her to death in San Sebastian, Spain.

He said that he could not bear to think that she might not love him any more.

A cat saved fourteen lives when fire broke out in a boarding house at Johannesburg.

It jumped on to the bed of its mistress and awakened her. Then she gave the alarm, and everyone rushed to safety from the blazing building.

A gipsy has been arrested in Almeria, Spain.

It is alleged that he sold his child, aged 6, in exchange for a donkey.

Tourists on the Elchberg, near Gloggnitz, Lower Austria, came upon a wild-looking man in a cave among the rocks.

At first he fled from them, but eventually spoke to them and proved to be an educated man born in Vienna.

Long unemployment has caused him to flee the haunts of man. He lives on berries and mushrooms, and says that he is so happy that he has no wish to return to civilisation.

Two kind-hearted Spanish waiters are walking from Alicante to Puerto Santa Maria, a distance of 480 miles, in order to serve a hearty meal to prisoners in goal there for political offences.

They will cook the meal themselves.

Mr. John Miller borrowed a book from a friend nearly thirty years ago, says Reuter from Morganton, North Carolina.

He has just returned it, with the message: "I'm sorry I kept it so long."

The friend has been dead for some time.—Reuter.

MODEL PRINCE

RUMANIAN HEIR'S SCHOOL SUCCESS

SECOND BOY IN CLASS

Bucharest. Conscientious is the word to describe Prince Michael, the Heir Apparent and ex-King of Rumania, who is now eleven years old.

Not long ago, it was said that Prince Michael was becoming too plump for his age. So he underwent an intensive "eliminating" course and carried out violent gymnastic exercises in order to reduce his weight.

Now his school "report" has reached the Palace. It shows a year's unflagging effort to learn.

The Prince is placed second in his class, too.

This is all the more creditable because the class consists of eight boys, whom Smith Minor would describe as "absolutely 'frightful swots'."

The boys are all picked as the "best scholars of their age from various schools. Their labours are directed by dozens of professors; and the subjects they tackle are legion.

The final placings for the year have been decided on by a Council of Professors, including the Minister of Public Instruction. Over the task of these pundits presided Prince Michael's devoted father, King Carol. It was the King's idea that founded the school of eight superlative scholars. He directs it personally.

The King is delighted with his son's progress. The experiment is likely to be carried on now till Prince Michael has "swotted" his way through another seven years and, with his seven companions, can enter the university.—Reuter.

INDUSTRY BUILT ON MOTHER'S GRIEF

ROMANCE OF FAMOUS CARPET MAKING

Lisbon. One of Portugal's most prosperous industries has been founded on a mother's grief. It is the carpet industry, built up by a broken-hearted woman who sought to forget her life's tragedy in manual work.

Four years ago, at this little village of Beiriz in the province of Douro, the wife of a well-to-do farmer lost her only child a little boy.

To divert her mind from her loss she took up carpet making, and as a proficient did she become, and so popular were the brightly coloured rugs and carpets she made, that before long she had six apprentices learning to become her helpers.

To-day that little home workshop has grown to a great factory employing 300 women workers besides scores of others employed in minor jobs and in transport.

The wool comes from the flocks of sheep which graze on the slopes of the Estrella Mountains, and the Beiriz carpets now find their way all over the world, being sought after as much for their delicate colouring and characteristic patterns as for their hard-wearing properties.—Reuter.

NAZIS SOLDIER— LAWYERS

Legal Minds Must Be Military Trained

Berlin. All German Law students have now to undergo a period of training in military exercises and "sports" in Nazi camps before they will be allowed to practise at the German Bar.

The first of these camps has been opened at Juterbog 30 miles from Berlin, and is organised on strictly military lines. The students have to live soldiers in the field. And they are not allowed to smoke or drink.

The day is spent in military training under the direction of Nazi war veterans, including ex-sergeant-majors, who maintain iron discipline.

The purpose of these camps is officially declared to be to "give an opportunity of judging the character and disposition of these young German" tendencies.—Reuter.

BEING LOVED

IS IT IMPRUDENCE OR A FATALITY?

COUNSEL'S IDEA

Paris. Is it an imprudence to be loved? Or is it merely a fatality? This question has arisen in connection with an insurance claim following two tragic deaths.

A young Provencal fell in love with a married woman from Paris, when she went to the South of France for the wedding of a relative.

He sent her ardent letters. But the woman was happily married, and replied, and replied gently but firmly, hoping that her lover would forget.

Instead, he came to Paris, shot her dead, and then committed suicide.

The husband claimed the 100,000 frs. (about £12,000) for which his wife had insured her life in his favour. The insurance company pointed to a clause of the contract stipulating payment in the case of fatality but non-payment in the case of imprudence on the part of the deceased.

Trips in aeroplanes and submarines, mountaineering and racing are included in "acts of imprudence."

"But in the present state of civilisation, is it imprudent for a married woman to refuse unwanted advances?" asks counsel for the husband. "Love is essentially a fatality."—Reuter.

FASCISM IN HOLY LAND

CHRISTIAN ARABS START MOVEMENT

Jerusalem. The Nazi policy of a racial "spring-cleaning" has been adopted by a group of young Christian Arabs of Bethlehem and Beit-Jallah. Beit-Jallah is a Christian town adjoining the "field of Ephraim" in which the patriarch Rachel mourned the scattering of Israel.

This group of young men is now engaged upon plans for forming a Fascist Party in Palestine.

Their ultra-nationalistic policy does not, however, envisage the exclusion of Moslems from a political alliance.

The part of Hitler's governmental policy that appeals to them most is that dealing with anti-Jewish measures.

One of the youth leaders, speaking recently at a rally of the budding Oriental Fascists at Bethlehem, declared that they wanted "A lean Palestine," rid of the Jewish population. He said he admired the Nazi anti-Jewish acts because they were "directed at exorcising a real evil." Such acts ought to be enforced in Palestine, he proclaimed, as the menace of Jewish domination in all spheres there was greater than in Germany.

But an Arabic daily has had an article deploring the Nazi Government's attitude to the Jews because its main effect has been to revive Jewish interest in the Zionist settlement of Palestine, in stimulating fund-raising among Jews, and thus in helping the materialisation of the Jewish National Home project. "Hitler's activities are not doing us Arabs any good at all," this paper remarks.

The young Arab Fascists, some of whom are Catholics, also believe Signor Mussolini's dictatorship to be a model of statecraft and say they will follow his principles of party rule.—Reuter.

TOWEL 2,000 YEARS OLD

FOUND IN FUNERAL URN

Rome. A beautifully woven Roman towel, in perfect state of preservation, has been found in a funeral urn of the Imperial epoch.

It is about the size of a modern hand towel, with fringes, and was found wrapped round the ashes of an unknown Roman of the early Christian era.

The urn had preserved its seal intact throughout the centuries. In addition it contained balsam with a basin of camphor, and this acted as a preservative for the cloth.

The towel is almost unique of its kind. Archaeologists think it may prove that the Romans habitually used a towel to wrap up the ashes of their dead before putting them into urns.

TOWNS GROW OUT OF JUNGLE

ACCESSIBLE ONLY BY AIR

YET MODERN IN EVERY WAY

Port Moresby, New Guinea. Modern towns, with hospitals, electric light and wireless, have arisen out of the jungle hinterland of New Guinea. There is no road to them; only aircraft can reach them over the mountains.

The development of the Bulolo, Wau and Edie Creek goldfields has caused this transformation.

Yesterday, the jungle echoed to the menacing growl of the war drums and the scream of the head-hunters.

To-day there is, instead, a clatter of huge dredges, and the deafening roar of giant monoplanes. Yesterday, painted cannibals wearing feather headdresses, held dances, feasts and initiation ceremonies.

To-day, instead, the same savages, grimy, wearing battered felt hats, are working under the direction of a handful of white men, and are using the latest machinery to win gold from the earth.

HOSPITALS AND BUNGALOWS. Surrounded by the jungle there are hospitals and comfortable bungalows equipped with wireless, gramophones, pianos, electric light, and great mining machines weighing hundreds of tons.

Yet there is no road through the towering mountains to these tropic goldfields. Everything has been brought in by aeroplane. Nothing like it has been done in the world before.

Sweeping to 8,000 feet over densely wooded ranges and steep ravines, the monoplanes covered within an hour the journey from Salama, which would take the fastest native carrier an arduous week to perform.

Fearlessness, resource and an indomitable spirit has been shown by the pioneer miner, and equal qualities by the airman who are conducting the services on which depends the ability to operate the fields.

MARVEL OF ENGINEERS. No wonder their joint achievements are the marvel of engineers and aviators the world over.

Twelve years have passed since "Shark Eye" Park, a man who had a magic power to travel in safety alone among the fiercest natives, first discovered gold on Koranga Creek, a tributary of the Bulolo River, and it was Bill Royal, the Bulolo Gold Dredging Ltd., and the New Guinea Goldfields, and a smaller company, called Daydown, and numerous syndicates, are working these fields, and gold worth £80,000 is being flown monthly to the coast.—Reuter.

PRAYER FOR PEACE.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO VISCOUNT GREY

London, Sept. 9. The body of Lord Grey of Fallodon was taken from Fallodon to Darlington for cremation this morning. Only relatives, with members of the indoor and outdoor staffs at Fallodon, were present. Meanwhile, services were held in Newcastle Cathedral and in Emblaton Parish Church, near Fallodon.

A special prayer was offered for the peace of the world—the wish nearest to the heart of the dead statesman.—British Wireless.

penniless and desperate, after years of misfortune, who struck deposits at the head of Edie Creek.

It is only six years since Lieutenant Mustard flew the first aeroplane—an old DH37, purchased cheaply from the Commonwealth, from Lae to Wau.

Yet to-day two big companies, the Bulolo Gold Dredging Ltd., and the New Guinea Goldfields, and a smaller company, called Daydown, and numerous syndicates, are working these fields, and gold worth £80,000 is being flown monthly to the coast.—Reuter.

PEKING GLACIS
INCIDENTJAPANESE ASSAULT
LEGATION LADY

Peking, Sept. 5.

Foreign circles in Peking are very indignant over an outrageous attack made by armed soldiers of the Japanese Legation Guard on Miss Emmeline Arguello, private secretary to Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, the American Minister to China, while riding on the bridge-path round the Glacis yesterday.

The Japanese military, without troubling to notify the other Legations, or even to erect a notice-board, suddenly decided to stop all riding on their part of the Glacis during military exercises, merely handing riders a pencilled and unsigned note to this effect.

Miss Arguello, ignoring the note, continue to ride, but, on returning, she was surrounded by a dozen soldiers with fixed bayonets. One of the soldiers threw a large stone at the pony, others struck her on the arm, snatched away her riding cane and broke it. Others seized the pony's bridle and tried to drag Miss Arguello away.

Miss Arguello was saved from further violence by the intervention of Commandant Benoit-Guyot, Commandant of the French Legation Guard, who went to her assistance.

BOMBER MAKES CRASH LANDING
FIVE MEN IN NARROW ESCAPE

Manila, Sept. 9.

When his motor failed at an altitude of 600 feet, Lieut. Thomas W. Steed succeeded in landing an army bomber in a cane field near Camp Clark yesterday, with only minor injuries to the crew personnel, although the plane was badly shaken and one of the wings was demolished.

The passengers were Lieut. G. W. R. Perry, Sergeant Charles O. Reed, Private David D. Davidson and Private Jack B. Griggs.

The bomber had come to Fort Stotsenburg from Nichols Field, and the enlisted men were getting some flying time. Circling near Clark Field the motor went dead, with Lieutenant Steed at the controls. He immediately maneuvered towards a cane field, and from an altitude of only 600 feet, quick thinking was necessary to land the plane without a disastrous crash.

Landing on uneven ground a wing was crashed and those aboard were shaken up but not seriously hurt.

TRAIN WRECKERS IN MANCHURIA PASSENGERS AND CREW CARRIED OFF

Harbin, Sept. 11.

Bandits wrecked another train on the Chinese Eastern Railway yesterday.

They unbolted the rails, causing the derailment of the train which was carrying passengers from Pogranichnaya towards Harbin.

The incident occurred about eleven miles this side of Pogranichnaya.

As soon as the derailment occurred, the train was subjected to a fusillade of bullets. The train was pillaged and the bandits seized the Manchukuo military guard, all the passengers and all the train crew and carried them off into the hills.—Reuter.

Falling from a tram, Lam Fung, 38, living at Capahemul, was fatally injured, and died on admission to the Government Civil Hospital, yesterday.

Wong Yuk-tong, aged 17, died at the Government Civil Hospital yesterday from injuries received in a fall from the roof of a house at Jervois Street.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Rotary Club, Mr. T. B. Wilson will give some observations on the Rotary International Convention at Boston and the work of Rotary Headquarters.

The wedding is announced to take place in the near future of Mr. Antoine Yves Colamel, marine engineer, of 6, Carnarvon Road, Kowloon, and Miss Martha Maria Pereira, of 10, Canton Avenue, Kowloon.

PERRY TROUNCES

cent backhand drives and volleys which continually beat Perry. Thereafter Perry could do nothing wrong and Crawford nothing right.

PERRY'S SERVICE

Perry's service was terrific in the last two sets, in which Crawford seemed listless.

A strong wind bothered the players and caused numerous double faults.

It must be said that Crawford hurt his knee when he fell in his semi-final match against Shields, but how much, if at all, influenced the result it is difficult to say.

Perry's performances since Wimbledon have given the lie direct to the suggestion that he was stale and over-played, and a world's ranking list based on the records of the 1933 summer, must, in view of Perry's Davis Cup feats and his latest success, earn him second place to Crawford.

The British invasion of America was a complete success. In the semi-finals, Crawford eliminated Frank Shields in straight sets and Perry likewise to Stofen.

Englishman, although gratified at the achievement of Fred Perry, will regret that Crawford, by far the outstanding player of the year, just failed in his quest for a world's record which would probably have stood for many years.

OVESEAS VICTORIES.

This is the second time in the history of the American championship that the title has been won by an Englishman, and the first time since 1928 that it has fallen to an overseas player.

H. L. Doherty, one of the most famous tennis players the world has ever known was the first Englishman successfully to visit America in quest of the championship.

He won it in 1903. It was not until 23 years later that the title again went out of the country.

Then Rene Lacoste, the Frenchman captured it and he retained it the following year. In 1928 Henri Cochet won the title for the first and only time.

At the suggestion of American Ambassador Sumner Welles, the government averted an incident by sending soldiers to the dock to insure the safe departure of Mr. Mathew V. Molanphy, American manager of the United Fruit Company, against whom students, workers and radicals demonstrated.

Unconfirmed reports said that several soldiers started an uprising at Camp Columbia, near Havana, but were shot and further trouble was suppressed.

The executive committee, in general charge of the government, includes:

Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, University professor.
Dr. Guillermo Portela, professor.
Dr. Jose N. Irazarri, lawyer.
Sergio Cabo, newspaperman.
Portillo Franco, former banker.

HOLLYWOOD AND KIDNAPPINGPREVENTIVE EFFORTS
REDOUBLEDBODYGUARDS FOR THE "STARS"

Hollywood, California.

Roused by the latest outbreak of kidnapping in the U.S.A. Hollywood is redoubling its precautions against kidnapers.

Fear of kidnapping, always present among the colony's 20,000 actors and actresses, has been heightened by recent abductions in other parts of the country.

Leading studios already guarded by private police, are discussing formation of a "Scotland Yard" to protect their film stars and directors, and Los Angeles county and city officials are taking precautionary steps.

The local sheriff has a group of secret investigators to handle kidnapping cases, and has warned wealthy families to be on their guard.

The Chief of Police has ordered his men to keep a finger on bootleggers who have been forced out of business by repeal of liquor laws, and has issued orders to shoot to kill in combatting kidnapers.

Hollywood's concern is not one of idle apprehension. Two men convicted several years ago of contriving a plot to abduct one of the most famous of its film celebrities, Mary Pickford, are serving sentences of from 10 to 50 years.

Marlene Dietrich, the German actress now in Europe, had bars put on her Beverly Hills home, and later hired guards for her young daughter 24 hours a day. An armed guard accompanied them to Europe.

PROTECTING CHILDREN.

Ann Harding has a special guard for her daughter, June Bannister.

Harold Lloyd, the millionaire, bespectacled funster whose estate is a showplace, has a guard for his three children. So has Gloria Swanson.

One studio already is perfecting a detective organization in its private police system to keep an ear close to underworld movements which might bode evil for its stars and officials.

So marked has become the apprehension of film personages they are accompanied by bodyguards even when they attend theatre "premiers" (first nights) and other public functions. When a star travels, studio officials frequently arrange with police departments en route to afford them special protection.—Reuter.

U.S. AND SOUTH
AMERICABIG EFFORTS TO CAPTURE TRADEAPPOINTMENT OF MR. GIBSON

Washington.

When Mr. Hugh Gibson, generally rated one of the most experienced American diplomats, was shifted from Brussels to Brazil by President Roosevelt in his administration, it struck some Washington observers as odd.

Mr. Gibson's years of experience with the problem of disarmament, at a time when it seemed that the Roosevelt administration was setting out with high hopes to get somewhere in the disarmament field, appeared indispensable.

But Diplomatic and trade circles in Washington are looking upon Mr. Gibson's appointment to Rio de Janeiro as a significant move in the Roosevelt administration's intention to do all possible in recapturing for the United States export trade the once lucrative markets of South America.

Since he is well schooled in the statecraft and trade practices of this country's commercial rivals, the possibility of concluding with Brazil in agreement for reciprocal trade favours to build up commerce between the two great national entities of North and South America may be Mr. Gibson's mission at Rio.—Reuter.

NEW ANTIDIPHTHERIA
TOXOIDAN EFFICACIOUS
GERMREACTION NOT SEVERE

Montgomery, Alabama.

Fortifications in children's bodies against attacks of the dreaded diphtheria germs are claimed to be built more quickly and efficiently than ever before by a new antidiphtheria toxoid developed by the Alabama Health Department.

The 'fortification builders' are substances known as anti-germs or germ-fighters, which are natural and bigger enemies of diphtheria germs. A regiment of germ-fighters in one injection of the new toxoid will complete the process of fortifying the body, whereas formerly it took three injections to finish the job.

90 PER CENT. EFFICACIOUS.

Not only are the fortifications built more speedily but they are claimed to be well-nigh impregnable. The toxoid has made more than 90 per cent of the children on whom it was tried immune against the disease. Immunization of the child population against diphtheria should be greatly advanced with the aid of the new toxoid, it is believed, because the amount of toxoid formerly necessary to immunize one child now is sufficient for two or three.

Diphtheria now kills above five persons, mostly children, in every 100,000 of the American population each year. That is already a tremendous reduction from 1900, when forty persons per 100,000 died of the disease annually in the States which then kept records.

The toxoid consists of the toxins or poisons produced by diphtheria germs, which when injected call forth the body's defence forces against the disease instead of infecting with the disease itself. Formalin is used as a preservative for it. This toxin is the same material used in preparing the toxin-anti-toxin now used in immunizing children against diphtheria. In making the new kind of toxoid, alum is added to the mixture, which separates the potent part of the toxoid from the rest, the extra liquid is drawn off, and the potent part is dissolved in a salt solution.

REACTION NOT SEVERE.

By this method weak toxoids formerly not usable in immunization can be built up to the desired strength and others that are too strong can be diluted to standard strength. The toxoid is injected under the skin. Reactions due to impurities, sometimes suffered by those receiving the immunization treatment, are not as severe with the new toxoid, showing it is of a high degree of purity.

The new toxoid is absorbed more slowly by the body than the old, with the result that the tissues of the body are exposed longer to the action of the anti-diphtheria germ-fighters. This enables the body's defences to be built up completely by the injection.

Babies can be injected with the toxoid any time after three months of age.—Reuter.

ORATORS

Prague.

Deputies in the Czechoslovak Parliament will not, in future, be allowed to read their speeches.

This is to be enforced by a new Parliamentary order, because it is alleged that in the past Deputies have read their speeches without thinking what they have been saying.

On several occasions they have made, in the middle of a speech, such remarks as: "At this point laugh ironically."

In addition, groundless absence from more than five plenary sessions of the Chamber will be punished by suspension of one month's salary and official publication of the fact.

Continued absence will bring with it suspension of six months' salary and publication of the fact.

FINAL WARNING

MANCHUKUO NOTE TO RUSSIA

Harbin, Sept. 10.

The Manchukuo Foreign Ministry handed over to the Soviet Consul-General here to-day the second and final note regarding the Opu officials' search of the Manchukuo steamer Tungsang on the Ussuri River and the seizure of ten Russian emigre guards, who were carried off to Russia.

It warns Russia of the serious consequences which may develop if an immediate reply is not forthcoming and reiterates the demand for an apology by the Soviet Government and the punishment of the Opu officials. At the same time, the note insists upon the return of the prisoners. Further, the message points out that no satisfactory reply has been received to the first note.

Continuous and frequent violations of Manchukuo's sovereignty and frontier zones, "prove that the Soviet is not desirous of maintaining friendly and neighbourly relations," says the document.

Manchukuo officials in Harbin state that it is felt that the time for talking has expired and that it will be necessary to adopt retaliatory measures.

U.S. AND THE DAVIS CUP

WAS THE TEAM OVERTRAINED?

AUSTRALIA TOUR "NO GOOD"

All may be well and friendly on the surface in the ranks of America's Davis Cup players and the managerial forces, but behind the scenes there is a storm brewing, with a "new deal" an absolute certainty before the 1934 team is chosen.

In the first place, the opinion is general that the United States Lawn Tennis Association pulled the prize boner of the year sending Ellsworth Vines and Wilmer Allison, the singles hopes, half way around the world to play the same old winter and spring in Australia. Not only did this junket provide a solid ten months of competition for the pair, tiring them mentally of tennis, if not physically, but it stirred up the opposition in Australia.

AUSTRALIAN TRIP "NO GOOD."
"The Australian trip was no good for us," Vines said with absolute conviction when the American squad returned after losing to Great Britain 4-1 in the inter-zone final round.

"We had too much tennis and we merely provided opposition against which the Australians, Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath, developed their games and confidence. I don't think I'll ever play another winter of tennis like that."

Bernon S. Prontice, captain of the squad and against whom the brunt of the criticism is thrown that the Americans were over-trained and over-confident, agrees that the Australian junket probably was a mistake. But he eagerly meets his critics on the ground that the boys did too much practicing for the interzone matches and thus left their best tennis on the training courts.

BETTER THAT WE

"Vines," he said, "played through Wimbledon, came to France, and did not touch a racket for four days. The boys practised only when they felt like it. They all did about the same amount of work. If Vines and Allison were overtrained, then why weren't George Lott and Johnny Van Ryan in the same fix? They not only were in perfect shape, but they played the finest, fastest, most perfect doubles to beat the English that I ever have been."

"Vines and Allison were in splendid condition, and they played fine tennis, but we simply ran into a set of circumstances that could not be beaten. Perry and Austin both thrive on the slow French courts while we like speed. We happened to hit them when they were the equal of any tennis players in the world. They beat us because they played better than we did. Instead of looking for alibis, we should extend credit where credit is deserved."

Just what changes will be made next year in America's conduct of its annual bid for the Davis Cup that left here in France's possession in 1927 are difficult to forecast. There is no scarcity of talent available. But there does seem a decided need for generalship and leadership of the challenging array.

Shanghai, Sept. 10.
Great Britain regained the International Polo Cup here to-day when the British team defeated an American side containing no less than three interport players.

In the seventh, the extra chukker, Great Britain scored the winning goal.

The contestants swam from Channel Rock to the front of the club pavilion. Hundreds of spectators watched the event.

ARSENAL HELD

(By "The Pilgrim")

By their surprising defeat of Leicester City on the mid-landers, own ground on Saturday, Tottenham now take premier position in the First Division to which they were promoted this season.

This is the first match Leicester have lost at home and it indicates either that the virile defence, which they have been at some pains to build up, has not fulfilled expectations or that the Spurs leader Hunt, has infused a match winning life into the forward line.

Manchester City created consternation among the punters by holding the Arsenal to a draw on the Highbury ground and in so doing emphasized their splendid teamwork. It will carry them far this season.

WEDNESDAY'S RETORT.
The Wednesday gave an apt retort to those critics who hinted that the club was in danger of falling below first division standard by getting the odd goal in five against Everton on the latter's ground. Birmingham conclusively defeated Middlesboro—another away match—and Derby journeyed to Newcastle to share points with the Cup holders.

The Wanderers fared dismally before their own supporters conceding six goals to Sunderland. The latter are one of the youngest and best balanced sides in League football and are due for a bright season, whilst on the other hand the Wolves are taking serious risks with their defence. Both clubs are gambling with young players but with very different results.

STRUGGLING UNITED.
In the Second Division Preston and Notts County lost their unbeaten records in away encounters. Grimsby accounting easily for the former and Southampton taking the points by an odd goal against the County.

The United are still struggling and that is all that can be said. Burley did well to wrest points from the mangers who gave them very reluctantly at Upton Park.

Crystal Palace visited Reading and satisfied their supporters by a goalless draw. Newport fell before Aldershot, registering their second home loss. There were few surprises in the North section of the Third Division though New Brighton's profitable journey to Carlisle was not an assured thing.

Scottish football upset many coupons, Partick taking away a point from Clyde and Dundee taking both from Aberdeen. Celtic and Rangers divided the honours whilst the luckless Queen's Park fell again on their own ground, this time to Ayr United.

GOLF COMPETITION.

The fourth round of the second Summer Singles competition of the Happy Valley Golf Club was completed on Saturday afternoon, G. T. May, A. E. Clarke, H. H. Mundy and L. Goldman entering the semi-final round.

G. T. May (17) defeated A. G. Ursell (13) on the 19th green, and A. E. Clarke (14) defeated W. L. Alexander (17) 2-up. These two players will contest one semi-final.

H. H. Mundy (10) defeated J. S. Dykes (13) 2 and 1 and L. Goldman (11) defeated S. T. Butler (10) 3 and 7. Mundy and Goldman will meet in the other semi-final.

DECIDING GAME POSSIBLE

GREAT DISPLAY BY K.B.G.C.

NEXT WEEK'S VITAL GAME

(By "Veritas")

By their victory against Craigengower on Saturday, the Kowloon Bowling Green Club not only kept alive their interest in the destination of the second division championship of the bowls league, but made certain of at least one thing—whatever else happens they must finish runners-up.

It cannot be said that Craigengower gave a display worthy of champions. They were decisively beaten on all three rinks. On the other hand the Bowling Green played their best bowls of the season, excellent team work being noticeable.

Civil Service's prospects of keeping in the running were finally ruined by the Police who beat them with surprising ease, being ahead on all rinks.

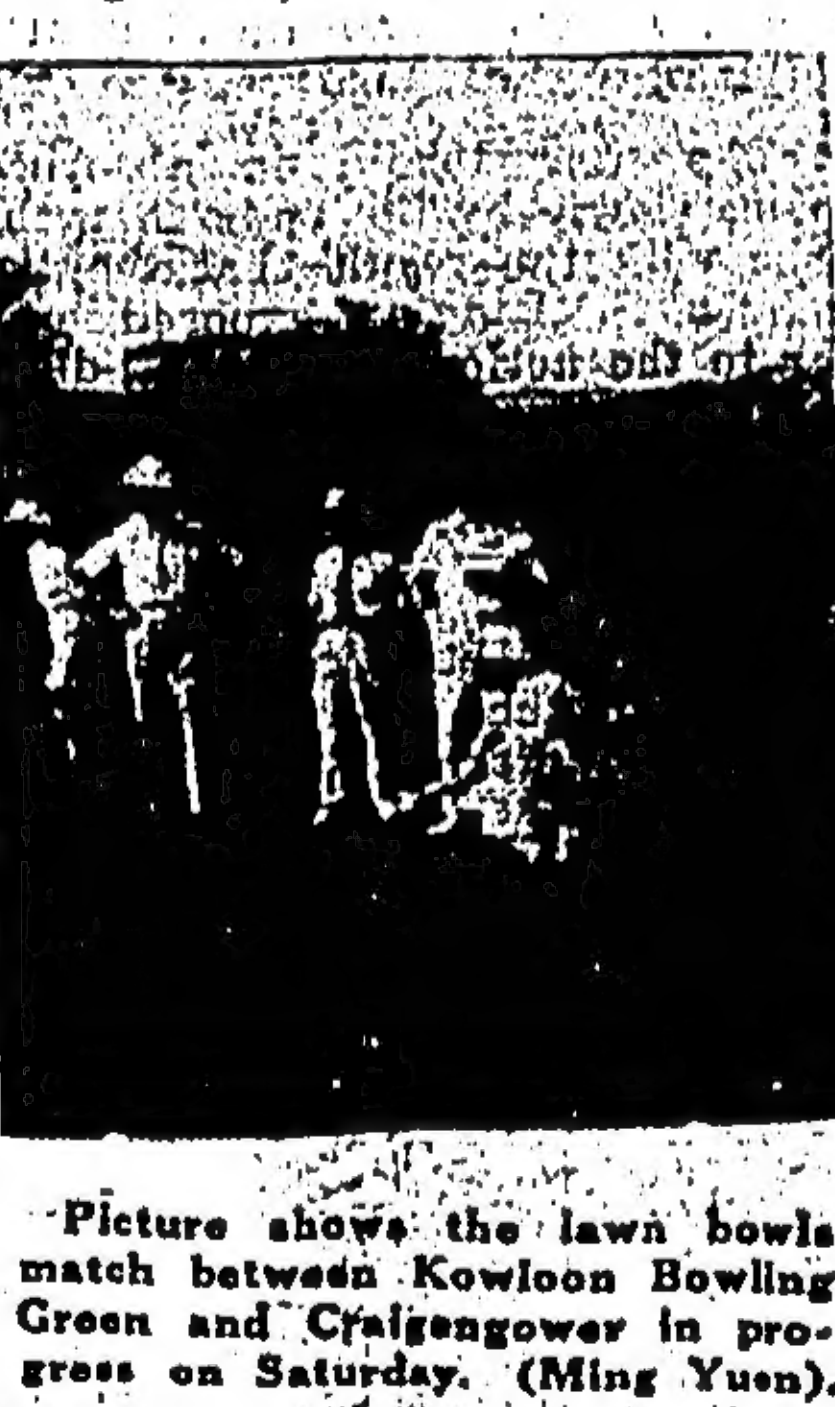

The position is now clear. Craigengower must win against Civil Service next Saturday if they are to retain the championship. Their defeat would mean a deciding match with the Bowling Green Club, thus opening up the prospects of the Peninsula club achieving the "double."

INTERPORTERS ON VIEW.

The practice matches between the Interport rinks were somewhat disappointing. Very few of the players maintained usual form. The real exception was Raoul Luz, who, against what is generally regarded as the strongest of the Interport rinks, played inspired bowls, and led his man to a 28-7 victory.

The players appeared to be affected by the knowledge that they were more or less on trial and in endeavouring to put their best into the game, became over-anxious with unfortunate results.

However, the matches had the benefit of allowing the rinks to develop team work and further practice games will do much towards cementing them into a strong team.

Picture shows the lawn bowls match between Kowloon Bowling Green and Craigengower in progress on Saturday. (Ming Yuen).

1934 OLYMPICS

INDO-CHINE TO COMPETE

"ALREADY MAKING PREPARATIONS"

French-Indo China is now in the midst of an intensive training for the 1934 Far Eastern Championship Games, according to report received by the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation. Thirty or more athletes from this country will come to Manila to make a bid for the Oriental athletic honours in May of next year.

The training of athletes for the races, jumps and possibly basketball and volleyball will begin next month under the direction of Army officers. There will be football elimination in Hanoi, Saigon and Hui for the purpose of selecting material for the football classics. The northern and southern districts of this country will also be represented.

ASSOCIATION FORMED.

The Sporting Federation of Tonkin which is directing the participation of French-Indo China has made advanced preparations in order to insure the success of the drive of this country to win some prestige in the meet. Arrangement were made with federation in Saigon so that an Olympic Association could be formed in French-Indo China. This was done because the participating unit is not permitted in the Far Eastern Olympics, but a country is recognized as a competitor, providing its entry is approved by the competing nations.

The idea of competing in the Far Eastern Athletic Association championship games was suggested by Count Boillet Latour, president of the world's olympic games, when he was in French-Indo China in December. The sports officials wrote to the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation and to Dr. Kishi, president of the Far Eastern Athletic Association regarding the rules and conditions.

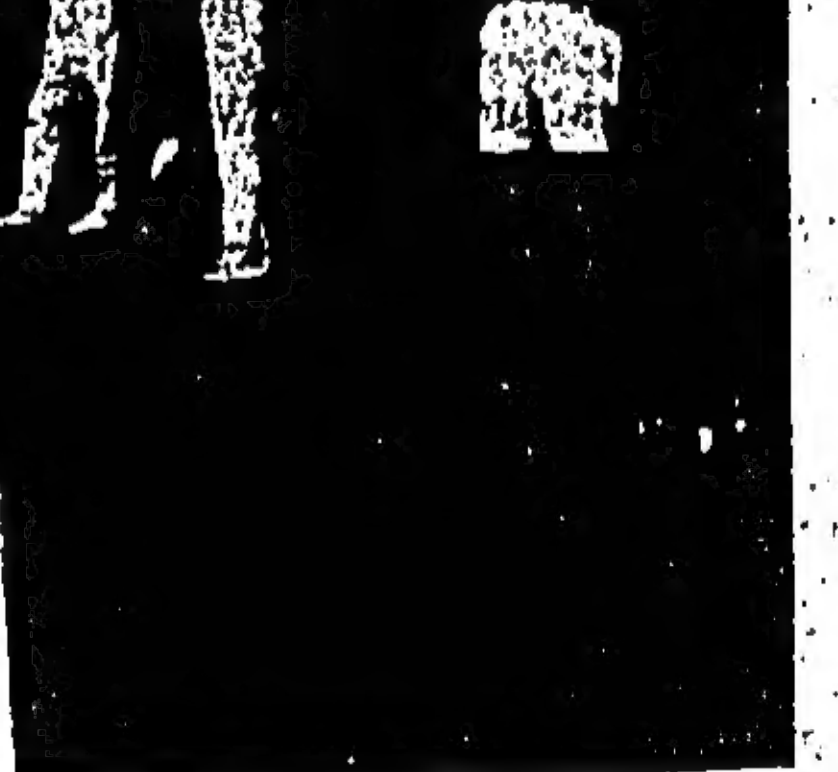

Permission of the Governor General in French-Indo China to have the country take part in the meet was secured by the sports officials of that country.

The French Alliance Society in Manila will take care of the athletes during the sojourn in this city.

THAT WIMBLEDON FINAL

AN ANALYSIS

Helen Wills Moody's loss of her first tennis set in six years to Dorothy Round in the final of the Wimbledon championships may have been due largely to the unfortunate incident of the linesman in calling a decisive point against her, but the detailed analysis shows a relatively close match all the way.

Mrs. Moody's margin in games was 18 to 15, but she scored only 20 more points than Miss Round in the three sets. The baseline character of the American star's game is reflected by the fact that while Miss Round's winning strokes (aces and placements) were considerably greater, 31 to 10 in the second set and 18 to 11 in the third, Mrs. Moody made only half as many errors ("nets" and "outs").

Miss Round won 12 and lost four service games while Mrs. Moody won 14 deuce games, including seven in the second set, but all four of the "love" games were won by the American.

"During the seven times Mrs. Moody has entered for the singles championship at Wimbledon," notes a British commentator, "she has lost altogether 165 games. Miss Lenglen, in her eight years of competition, lost 101 games, but in two of those years, 1920 and 1921, Suzanne, as the titleholder did, not play through, competing only in the challenge match. Miss Lenglen's best year was 1925, when she sacrificed only five games in five rounds. Here are the games lost by Mrs. Moody:

Year	Games Lost
1924	27
1927	30
1928	19
1929	16

COCHET BECOMES PROFESSIONAL

Official Report Of Decision

Paris, Sept. 9.
There has been much talk about Henri Cochet turning professional following his significant statement, "Professional? Yes, but I do not know when. I will become a professional the moment I go on the court to play in a match for which I shall be paid. If I play against W. Tilden in the match between Tilden's group and French professionals, it will naturally be as a professional."

Later, Henri Cochet has definitely turned professional.

PROMISE OF CLUB RESERVES

SNAPPY FORWARD LINE

IMPRESSIONS BY "VERITAS"

In sweltering weather, the football season of 1933-34 made a tentative opening in Hongkong on Saturday, when on the Club ground, the Club first and second teams opposed the Royal Artillery's two league sides in practice games.

It would be foolish to attempt to draw any dogmatic conclusions from these games. Obviously the close season had left the majority of the players short of the requirement of stamina demanded by football, and after 40 minutes play there was a general air of listlessness about the games.

In many respects the match between the two junior teams provided the most interest, and I am prepared to forecast that providing they can retain most of the forward line, the Club are going to enjoy a successful season in the second division.

Geoffrey Lammert, who led the winners, cannot of course be regarded as a regular player, as rugby calls later on will deprive the team of his services. Which is a pity. Lammert and his type of leadership is just the impetus the club need to finish off their well executed mid-field work.

His virility on Saturday not only gave the Club the winning goal, but gave the forward line the appearance of being far ahead of the Artillery.

FISHER'S DEBUT.

Fisher is likely to prove a real acquisition on the right wing. Not only has he a fine turn of speed, but a ball control which many senior players here might envy. The club half backs, however, will do well to remember that this type of player will be given a better chance if offered strong forward passes. The tendency on Saturday was to pass direct, from which position he had to gather, the ball and develop his speed.

On the whole the club eleven revealed balance and lots of promise.

The R.A. appear to have a normal strength team. Obvious weaknesses on Saturday could be overlooked, for it is certain that they can and will be eradicated before the season proper starts. The defence showed up well, being forced into the limelight by the persistency of the Club forwards.

If the game between the seniors is taken at all seriously, one would have to comment on several disappointments. But as it was not an Interport trial, but merely a means, of once again becoming acquainted with the football, the value of the game was fully realised.

THE NEWCOMERS.

One naturally turned eyes on the Club's newcomers, reduced at the last minute to Charlie Wright and "Bunny" Bickford. Wright, I thought, gave promising glimpses of a brainy footballer. He was at half speed all through, and seeing that he has been out of the game for at least two years, gave a very good account of himself.

Bickford was not overworked and it was impossible to judge whether he has improved since last season or not. There were flashes of his old time cleverness, but the fruits of his work were seldom realised.

How, I think, is going to be a great leader this season, and he, with Pardo, were really the only players to stand up to the exhausting conditions and give consistent performances.

The Artillery seem to have found excellent deputies for Brumby, Moore, Gough and Walker, and the general balance of the team left a favourable impression. Allen was magnificent and Comby in heading for representative honours if he maintains his form.

The results were:
The Club 2 Royal Artillery 3
Club A 2 Royal Artillery 1
Club B 2 Royal Artillery 1

SWIMMING GALA.

Lango Breaks 220 Yards Record

The Y. M. C. A. swimming gala on Saturday night saw H. Lango, who holds the Hongkong 220 yards free style record, clip 0.2/6 secs. from his 1932 Y. M. C. A. record of 2 mins. 40. 3/5 secs.

A. G. Donn, the holder of the 50 yards title, was again successful in his event, when he beat W. T. Campbell by a touch.

The Men's 100 yards breast stroke event was a failure, as W. Schreuder, the holder, failed to make his appearance, and Fowler had no option, under the rules of the championship, but to swim the distance alone.

The diving event was keenly contested and some exceedingly good dives were witnessed. A. Morrison and R. Goldman tied for first place with 49 points each, and Morrison was announced the winner by two points after a dive-off.

In the Ladies' 50 yards aggregate handicap (semi-final), Miss S. Dalziel contested first place in the first heat, with Mrs. M. Read a close second, and Miss M. Lane was the winner of the second heat with Miss J. Shoemith second.

COLLEGE CRICKET.

St. Joseph's Defeat La Salle.

SOUSA BOWLS WELL.

The first inter-college cricket match of the season was played between St. Joseph's College and La Salle College on the latter's ground on Saturday afternoon, and ended in a win for the former by seven wickets.

La Salle College batted first, and were given a good start by J. Alves (47) and R. Silva (16), who put on 63 runs for the first wicket, but their remaining batsmen could do nothing against the bowling of G. Sousa, who captured 5 wickets for only 3 runs. The whole team was dismissed for 78 runs, the last nine wickets yielding only 15 runs. H. Asome helped Sousa with the bowling, and returned a final analysis of 4 wickets for 22 runs.

St. Joseph's had no difficulty in making this total, and G. Windsor (52 retired), A. Baker (19), H. Asome (15) and S. L. Khoo (10) were the principal contributors in their total of 123 runs for 9 wickets.

INTER-COMPANY MATCH.

The "A" Company of the Lincolnshire Regiment defeated the Headquarters Wing by one wicket in the Inter-Company match at Shamshui-po.

The Headquarters Wing batting first totalled 70 runs, and their opponents had scored 70 runs for 0 wickets, when L/Cpl. Deakin and Cpl. Clarke came together to defy the bowlers and score the necessary runs for victory.

"EXACTLY RIGHT"

APPOINTMENT OF HON MR. CADOGAN

London, Sept. 10.

The appointment of the Hon. Alexander Cadogan as Minister to China is warmly welcomed by the Sunday Times, whose columnist "Atticus" describes it as "exactly right."

He draws attention to Mr. Cadogan's work with the League of Nations and points out that the Ministry to China is altogether outside the ordinary diplomatic orbit.

Had Mr. Cadogan not been available, continues the columnist, there would have been something to be said for an appointment from outside the diplomatic service, like certain recent Ambassadors to Washington.

The problems in China are novel and constantly changing. The British Minister must not be an official pedant and must realise that half of his work lies outside formal grooves. He must have insight, foresight, sympathy and patience. All these qualities Mr. Cadogan has shown he possesses in a large degree.—Reuter.

It was stated at the time that he intended taking a few weeks' cruise on a friend's yacht.

DEFYING PRES. ROOSEVELT

GOLD HOARDERS & LEGAL RIGHTS

"THE LAW IS ON OUR SIDE"

Washington.

Two hundred and eleven American are defying the U.S. Government to come and take their gold. Officials of the Department of Justice have threatened repeatedly that prosecution will follow failure to turn in the metal to the government.

The U.S. Attorney General has said that 211 persons hold $1,207,057 of gold which they have refused to turn over to the government in compliance with President Roosevelt's executive order. They believe apparently that the President has exceeded his constitutional authority and that if the matter is brought to the courts the Supreme Court will uphold their refusal.

The Attorney General said that when and how he would proceed against these hoarders had not been determined and probably would not be decided until after his agents had completed checking the list furnished the Department by the Treasury.

This list contains the names of nearly 10,000 persons who were reported to have withdrawn gold during the banking crisis of last winter and spring.

The Attorney General said that he regarded the campaign conducted by the Department as successful in that to date 4,299 persons had been interviewed by his agents and 260 of them had returned $761,562 of gold at their request. Altogether some $25,000,000 gold has been returned since the campaign was started.—Reuter.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

It's Great To Be Alive! the new Fox musical comedy, is showing at the King's Theatre. Raul Roulien, lord of the South American stage and screen, has the stellar role, and is surrounded by a large group of performers that includes all of the most beautiful women of the Hollywood film colony.

The story concerns itself with the strange situation of one solitary male in a world of millions of women. All men, but this one, are wiped off the globe, and the conjecture about "the last man on earth" becomes a reality.
The fact this one man happens to be a popular aviator who has been cast away on a desert island, is said to contribute heavily to the hilarity.

The supporting cast, headed by Gloria Stuart, Edna May Oliver, and Herbert Mundin, includes Joan Marsh, Dorothy Burgess, Erma Dunn, Edward Van Sloan and Robert Greig.
More than 10,000 of Hollywood's most gorgeous girls take part in the production which launches Raul Roulien on a career of American screen strid-dom.

"Peg O' My Heart"

Marion Davies gives the finest performance of her entire career in the delightful "Peg O' My Heart," which opened yesterday at the Queen's Theatre.

The talking picture version of the play that has been acclaimed in the theatre for more than twenty years, has a freshness and sparkle all its
own. There is not a lagging moment or a flaw in the simple clarity of its sweet romance. It is just the kind of picture people want to see these hectic and troubled days.

Miss Davies' Peg is individual and not patterned from the stage-created Peg. Yet her interpretation of the role is none the less genuine and familiar in character. All the heyden charm of the little Irish lass is intact.

The film marks the debut as a leading man of Orson Welles, who gives promise of filling a new berth in the position of leading man.
Stevens has a distinct personality of his own that registers strongly in a quiet and repressed manner of performance.

"The Man From Toronto"

Story value apart and you can take it that "The Man From Toronto" coming on Thursday to the King's Theatre, is one of the wittiest and funniest films seen for a very long time the new Jessie Matthews picture, which Sinclair Hill has made for Gainsborough, affords us some delightful glimpses of rural Sussex.

Here is the English countryside as we know it, unchanging, unspoiled country such as the middle-aged townsfolk occasionally dream of.
Ambley in Sussex, was the location chosen for the choicer shots, and as can be imagined, the invasion of movie camera and recording apparatus created no end of diversion in the locality.

Sinclair Hill has collected a number of the quaintest possible types for this most amusing picture. For example, the village inn, with its

BREAKER POINT OUTRAGE.

LONDON PAPER HITS AT APATHY.

London, Sept. 10.

Following the release of the Nan-chang captives, the Sunday Referee
draws attention to the case of the British family, Mr. and Mrs.
Edwards and four children, who were carried off from the Breaker
Point lighthouse, near Swatow, in March 1932.

It also refers to the case of the Rev. H. S. Ferguson, a missionary who was kidnapped near the Tibetan border and points out that no news has been received of either in the past three months.

The journal criticises "the apathy with which kidnapping appears to have been treated" and understands the question will be raised in Parliament when it re-assembles.—Reuter.

"TRUNK" MURDER

REMEDIOS BROTHERS LEAVE FOR MACAO

Shanghai, Sept. 9.
Patricio dos Remedios, the self-confessed murderer of the hapless Choy Ling, and his brother, Jose dos Remedios, have left for Hongkong aboard the Messageries Maritimes liner, Felix Roussel.

They will be taken to Macao to stand their trial for the murder. The murder was committed on the night of August 4, and was one of the most brutal in the history of Shanghai crime. According to a confession made by Patricio, he murdered Choy Ling with an ice breaker. Later, he packed her body in a black trunk and sent it to Kobe, aboard the Shanghai Maru.

When no one came to claim the trunk, and the man to whom it was addressed could not be found, customs officials forced it open and made a gruesome discovery.

A Russian and a Japanese were suspected of the crime before the trail of evidence led to the Remedios Brothers. Soon after it was established that Choy Ling was Patricio's common law wife, the brothers were arrested.

In making his confession Patricio cleared his brother of any complicity in the crime. He said Jose knew nothing of it until the trunk was aboard the Shanghai Maru.

LUCKY ESCAPE.

CAR TURNS OVER AT CASTLE PEAK

Four occupants of a private car had an alarming experience when the Morris Sedan in which they were travelling skidded and turned over on its side on the Castle Peak Road about 2.30 p.m. yesterday.

The car belonged to Mr. Cheung Yuk-sai, and was being driven by his private driver, Lau Hing. Two other friends were in the car at the time of the mishap, which took place near Ping Shan. Except for a severe shaking, the occupants of the car did not receive any serious injuries.

Efforts were made to put the car back on to the road again, but this proving futile the party returned to Kowloon, and the abandoned car was left to be righted later. The car was but slightly damaged, but all the windows were broken.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

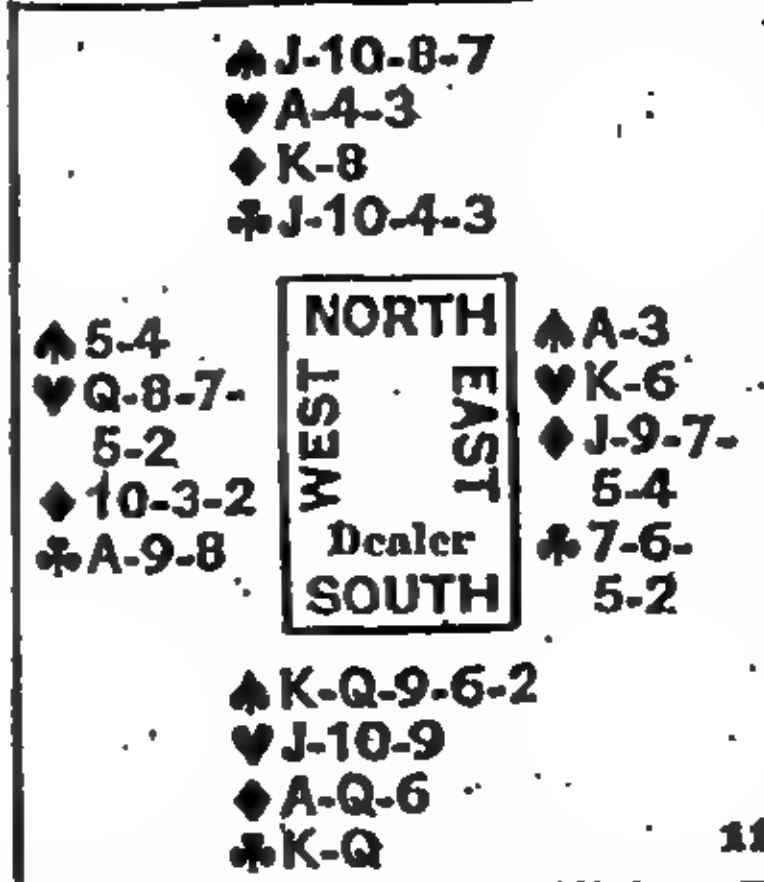

A hand which seemed very troublesome to duplicate players occurred recently in the Seventh Annual Conquest Lake Tournament, held at Conquest Lake, Pa. Of 12 North and South pairs who played the hand, all but one arrived at a contract of four spades.

The Bidding

In each case South opened with one spade, North assisted the suit, and South re-bid to four. This appeared to be perfectly normal bidding, and the hand seemed well suited for play at spades, with five in one hand and four in the other.

The Play

However, the four spade contract could be defeated by an almost routine defence. West opened his fourth best heart, which was ducked in the dummy, and East won with the king. He returned a heart to dummy's ace, and went up with the ace of spades immediately when a small spade was returned from dummy.

He must now find some way to get his partner in the lead to give him a heart ruff, and selected a club as offering the best possibility. West won with the ace of clubs and returned a small heart, allowing East to make his three of spades and defeating the contract one trick.

Only one pair arrived at three no trump, which was the correct contract and could easily be made. In fact, the hand was played with North as declarer, and he succeeded in making five no trump. East opened a diamond, which was won in the South with the queen, declarer wishing to give the impression that he was taking a finesse.

Anticipating possible difficulty with entries, he elected to unblock the club suit at once, and led the king of clubs from dummy. West won with the ace and returned a diamond, as the declarer hoped he would. From this point, the opponents could take only the ace of spades, and the declarer took four spades, three diamonds, three clubs and the ace of hearts, scoring five no trump.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, HONGKONG

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, yesterday.

The Golden Text was: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations." (Psalms 135:13).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "...Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matt. 6:19-21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sensual treasures are laid up 'where moth and rust doth corrupt. Mortality is their doom. Sin breaks in upon them, and carries off their fleeting joys. The sensualist's affections are as imaginary, whimsical, and unreal as his pleasures. Falsehood, envy, hypocrisy, malice, hate, revenge, and so forth, steal away the treasures of Truth" (p.241).

CRIPPLED BEGGAR.

REMOVED FROM HONGKONG HOTEL PAVEMENT

A pitiful scene was witnessed in the Central Police Court on Saturday morning, when a Chinese male cripple, aged 35, huddled on a small cart, was carried into Court, and charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones with begging in Pedder Street.

Another man, aged 47, stated to be an earth cooler, was charged with aiding and abetting, and was fined $10 or fourteen days.

Sub-Inspector Smith stated the cripple was drawn about by the second defendant. He was taken off the cart and placed on the pavement outside the Hongkong Hotel to beg.

His Worship said he would deal severely with those who helped the cripple to beg. In this way he would discourage others from pulling the cart about. He would fine the cripple one dollar, and suggested that he be sent to the Tung Wah hospital.

THE MOLLISONS

ATTEMPT

London, Sept. 10.
Mr. Janja Mollison has left London for Montreal. He expects that he and his wife will start their attempt on the long distance record from Canada, to cross the North Atlantic, and will probably pass over London, en route to the Near East.—Reuter.

The Mollisons recently crossed the Atlantic on what was to be their last flight. Worn out by the strain, they crashed in Connecticut, wrecking their machine, in which they were to have tried to fly from New York to Bagdad.

A new machine for their attempt on the long distance record has been provided by Lord Wakefield.

FRENCH CONTENDERS.

Assolant And Le Fevre Are Ready.

Paris, Sept. 10.
The trans-Atlantic fliers, Assolant and Le Fevre will leave Le Bourget to-day for Peru, from where they will start for Indo-China in an attempt to break the long distance record.

They will use the same monoplane in which Parillare and Mermoz broke the record for the closed circuit flight in 1929.

The route will be via Greece,
Syria, Baal and India.—Reuter.

WELL-KNOWN CANA- DIAN BIOLOGIST

DR. RAMSAY WRIGHT DEAD

London, Sept. 9.
The death is announced of Dr.
R. Ramsay Wright, M.A., B.Sc.,
LL.D., Hon. M. A. (Oxon),
M.R.S., F.R.S.C., former Emori-tus Professor of Biology at the University of Toronto, at the age of 81.—Our Own Correspondent.

Dr. Wright was a Scotsman by birth. He was the youngest son of the Rev. John Wright, of Alloa, Scotland, and received his education at the Alloa Academy, the High School and the University of Edinburgh. In 1879 he was appointed assistant to the Professor of Natural History at Edinburgh University and in the following year went to America as Professor of Natural History at the University College, Toronto. He was vice-president of the University from 1901 to 1912 and held the post of Professor of Biology from 1887-1912.

Among his many publications are "High School Zoology," and the report on Fish and Fisheries of Ontario published in 1892. In addition he was a contributor to the Standard Natural History, and was the author of a number of papers dealing with the Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates.

Dr. Wright's wife, who was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs.
Peter Smith, of Inverleith Row, Edinburgh, predeceased him by three years.

drome to-day for Heston, Middlesex, before going to Baldonnel, Ireland, in readiness for their Atlantic flight.

Ulm will take off from Portmarnock Beach, where an accident marred his previous attempt on July 27.—British Wireless.

PITTMAN'S PLAN

HOPES TO RAISE PRICE OF SILVER

Reno, Nevada, Sept. 10.
Senator Key Pittman, member of the United States delegation to the World Economic Conference, and one of the leading silver theorists in the world today, has announced that he has recommended to President Roosevelt a plan, which, if followed, would advance the price of silver to $1.19 an ounce.

Senator Pittman refused to disclose details of his plan, saying that the information must emanate from the White House.

It is reported, however, that Senator Pittman suggested that the President should compel various United States mints to accept silver for coinage into silver dollars, which would then be returned to the producers, minus a certain coinage charge.

GOLD PRICE FALLS.

Dumping On Bullion Market.

London, July 9.
A sharp fall of 18 3/4d occurred in the price of gold to-day. It is now quoted at £6-9-2 1/2 per fine ounce—a premium of 4d. on the French franc.

One feature of yesterday's bullion market was the offering of the unusually large amount of £825,000 in bar gold. This was all disposed of, a large proportion being bought on continental account. The large amounts of gold being offered in the bullion market are partly explained by re-sale at profit of previous purchases of metal.

Silver is quoted at 18-1/16d., forward 18 1/2d. New York cross rate is 4.32 1/2 and Paris 8 1/4.—

SENSATIONAL U.S. GAOL BREAK

Three Killed; Thirteen Convicts Escape

New Orleans, Sept. 10.
Three were killed in a desperate riot at Angola Prison to-day. Thirteen long-term prisoners made their escape, frustrating pursuit with a hail of revolver fire.
They stole a car belonging to a visitor and made off after cutting the prison telephone wires.—Reuter.

SEQUEL TO KING FEISAL'S DEATH

Bagdad, Sept. 10.
King Ghazi, the new ruler of Iraq, has already assumed his responsibilities.
He has re-appointed the Premier and all Cabinet Ministers to the posts they held under King Feisal. Meanwhile a week's mourning for King Feisal will be observed in every town and village throughout the country, as well as in Trans-Jordan and Syria, where King Feisal's death (he was once King of Syria) was the excuse for a small anti-British demonstration in a mosque at Aleppo.
However, acting with promptitude, the French authorities there are taking steps to prevent any further trouble.
King Feisal's body is now at Brindisi, awaiting the arrival of the British cruiser "Despatch," which will convey the remains to Italy.—Reuter.

SMALL IN AREA

HEAVY BLOW NOT ANTICIPATED

PASSING CLEAR

A typhoon which formed fairly close to the Colony during the night caused the hoisting of the No. 7 Signal soon after seven o'clock this morning.

The disturbance moved very rapidly at first, but later slowed down.

At the moment, no great danger to the Colony is to be feared. The indications are that the typhoon will pass to the south.

According to an official statement issued by the Royal Observatory, the typhoon or depression began to develop south of the Colony about 50 miles to the west of Pratas Shoals and about 120 miles to the south-east of Hongkong.

MOVING WIDE.

There was no clear indication of its direction early on. It seemed probable that it would move west or north-west.

Shortly after ten o'clock it was stated that the typhoon was about 120 miles to the south-east, apparently moving W.N.W. If it changes course to a more northerly direction we are likely to get a severe blow.

The weather forecast is: North-East Winds, moderate to a gale; cloudy with rain.

South of the Colony, cyclonic rains are to be expected.

The typhoon appears to be of small area.

The warship in port left for their typhoon anchorage this morning shortly after the No. 7 signal was hoisted.

SQUALLS EXPECTED.

The weather forecast issued at 10.20 a.m. stated the outlook to be as follows:—North-east winds, moderate, freshening considerably, probably to a gale; cloudy, squally, rain.

LATEST NEWS

This afternoon, the typhoon was reported to be within thirteen miles of Lat 21 N, Longitude 114 E, moving in a W.N.W. direction. It was then about ninety miles south of Hongkong and seemed certain to pass.

The very small area of the typhoon accounts for the comparatively mild weather experienced considering how close the disturbance is.

It continues to threaten the coast to the west of Macao.

K.I.T.C. PRESIDENT GOING ON LEAVE

Farewell Tea Party Yesterday

Mr. Mahan Singh, President of the Kowloon Indian Tennis Club, is shortly leaving for India on furlough and for the purpose of attending his daughter's wedding.

As a mark of appreciation of the great services he has rendered the Club, members yesterday invited him to a tea party, when complimentary speeches were exchanged.

Mr. Feroz Ali, Hon. Secretary of the Club, said how much they owed to Mr. Mahan Singh for his great work on behalf of the club. He had done much to help them out of little difficulties and it was largely through his efforts that the club was now in a flourishing condition.

They wished him a happy and beneficial holiday and asked him to extend to his daughter the congratulations of the club on her marriage.

Mr. Mahan Singh suitably replied, remarking that whatever he had done for the club was because of his keen interest in it. He hoped to return to find it in the same flourishing condition as he

The great typhoon which struck the coast near Shanghai last week-end considerably affected the city although fortunately only minor damage was done. Perhaps the most striking thing that resulted from the fury of the winds was the flood in Central District and parts of Hongkong caused by the overflow of the Whangpoo. The picture on the right shows the depth of water in Soochuen Road near the junction with Hankow Road at midnight on Saturday while that on the left shows the conditions of the street at breakfast time on Sunday morning.

FOOCHOW PANIC

RAMP STAGED IN CITY

"REDS" HELD IN CHECK

"The Communists have been checked in their attack in the vicinity of Yenping and they are not likely to advance down to Foochow at least for some time," the Telegraph was informed this morning by a European who has just returned from a visit to the Fukien area.

He stated that until he left Foochow two days ago Yenping had never fallen into the hands of the Communists. As repeated reports had suggested, although it had been closely investigated. When the Communists made their advance in the city the gates were shut immediately. Severe fighting had since taken place in the neighbourhood, and Yenping was more or less the key point.

UNRELIABLE INFORMATION.

As an illustration of the unreliable information which has been pouring into Foochow a case was instanced of a person coming from Yenping who in conversation with our informant, stated that he had been in Yenping for some time and had not even heard a gun fired. Another person who arrived at about the same time stated that there had been continuous fighting quite close to the city for days. These contradictory reports were pouring into Foochow and it was thus difficult to obtain any reliable information.

A great panic was stated in Foochow last week by rumours, stated to have been engineered locally, that Foochow was in imminent danger and as a result there was a great demand for accommodation in any vessel leaving the port. Large numbers of refugees from Yenping came down the river and overland to Foochow and were placed in camps as all other available accommodation has since been dispelled by assurances that there was no immediate danger.

2nd DIVISION CUT UP?

In answer to a question as to the relative positions of the different divisions of the XIXth Route Army and the Communists, we were informed that in the absence of reliable information it was difficult to say.

As far as could be ascertained the Communists were approximately in the vicinity of Lion-Cheng.

The position of the 2nd (Temporarily Incorporated) Division, under General Lu Hsing-peng, was extremely obscure as they are stated to have suffered a severe reverse. The 6th Division is reported to be in the region of Kienlingfu.

Foreign warships at the Pagoda Anchorage are H.M.S. Bridge-water, the Japanese destroyers Kureki and Suzuki, and the U.S.S. Sacramento. Several Chinese gunboats which recently brought troops from the south are also at anchor in the river.

NAVAL CONFERENCE RUMOUR

TOKYO PROTEST TO U.S.A.

THREAT OF BUILDING RACE

INVITATION TO BRITAIN

The Daily Express reports that Japan and the United States have decided to ask Britain to participate in a new Three-Power Naval Conference.

The journal says that the conference will be convened for the purpose of revising the Washington and London Naval Treaties. It adds that the decision to invite Britain is the sequel to a recent exchange of Notes between the United States and Japan, following the Japanese protest against President Roosevelt's decision to inaugurate a $47,000,000 warship building programme.

and Swatow were peaceful and in no danger.

PANIC IN FOOCHOW.

The Telegraph's Foochow correspondent writes: "Panic" is scarcely too strong a word to describe the situation that prevailed in Foochow last week-end.

Rumours that Yenping had been taken by the Reds were capped by stories of the fall of Kaitung and the advance of the Reds towards Foochow. It was pathetic to see parties of well-dressed people hurrying out from the city, some to stay on the Island of Nantai, some to Pagoda Anchorage, and many filling all the available accommodation on steamers bound for Shanghai and Hongkong.

It was said that some of these steamers had three thousand passengers on board, and that as much as $150 was paid for a passage with practically no accommodation to speak of.

Rooms at Pagoda ordinarily let for three or four dollars a week were fetching forty or fifty dollars a day.

And still the rumours continued, and new ones were invented.

BANKS CLOSE DOORS.

One ship was said to have been pirated, another wrecked, a third to have turned turtle, and so on. Naturally there was a run on the money shops, and real difficulty was found in finding enough silver to supply the demand.

Several native banks have closed their doors.

It was rumoured in some quarters that the rumours were largely invented by persons eager to make money out of the scare. The Japanese community refused

STRONG DOSE OF INFLATION

U.S. CURRENCY OUTLOOK

COSTS RISING

New York, Sept. 10.
The possibility of the introduction of a definite currency inflation programme within the next three months is now envisaged.

The inflation scheme in contemplation, according to hints by Mr. Wallace, the Secretary of the Agriculture Department, provides for the reduction of the gold content of the dollar.

The New York Times quotes Mr. Wallace as saying that the people are likely to get impatient in the next three months and to demand a strong dose of inflation unless the disparity between the farmers' incomes and the price he pays for his purchases can be overcome by the increase in costs under the National Recovery Act going into increased purchasing power through pay-rolls and not into increased profits for manufacturers.—Reuter.

DEATH OF BRIG. GENERAL BROCK

AFTER DISTINGUISHED CAREER

(Our Own Correspondent).

London, Sept. 10.
The death is announced of Brigadier General Henry Jenkins Brock, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., at the age of 63.

Educated at Haileybury College, General Brock entered the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, and subsequently joined the Royal Artillery in 1889.

He served in the South African War from 1900 to 1902, was wounded and awarded the Queen's Medal and three clasps, and the King's Medal and two clasps.

He also served throughout the European War from 1914 to 1918, was mentioned in despatches and awarded the D.S.O., C.M.G., and C.B. He retired on pay in 1922.

who were on the point of returning up river after their holiday at Kullang have been advised to wait till the situation clears up; indeed it would be difficult to go at the moment owing to lack of travelling facilities.

NAZI OFFER TO AUSTRIA

LATEST HABICHT BROADCAST

Munich, Sept. 10.

The Nazi leaders responsible for the tension now existing between Austria and Germany are now offering terms for the "peaceful settlement" of the trouble with the Dollfuss Government.

The terms were outlined by Herr Habicht, the famous Nazi "Inspector for Austria" who was deported from Vienna, in a broadcast address from the Munich station to-night.

He declared that the conditions were as follows:

(1) the re-establishment of the Nazis' rights and liberties as a political party in Austria;
(2) the abolition of legal measures against the members of the Party;

GENERAL ELECTION.

(3) representation in a temporary Cabinet constituted in accordance with the strength of the Nazi Party;

(4) general elections to be held as soon as possible;

(5) the formation of a government in accordance with the election results.

Herr Habicht stressed that the aims of the Nazis were to unite Germany and Austria, but they wished to accomplish this by an arrangement with the Powers concerned and not by force.—Reuter.

TRAIN WRECKERS IN MANCHURIA

PASSENGERS AND CREW CARRIED OFF

Harbin, Sept. 11.

Bandits wrecked another train on the Chinese Eastern Railway yesterday.

They unbolted the rails, causing the derailment of the train which was carrying passengers from Pograditchnaya towards Harbin.

The incident occurred about eleven miles this side of Pograditchnaya.

As soon as the derailment occurred, the train was subjected to a fusillade of bullets. The train was pillaged and the bandits seized the Manchukuo military guard, all the passengers and all the train crew and carried them

The body of a Chinese was seen floating in the river near the Douglas Wharf at noon, and the police were informed. The body appeared to be a junk, and was

TOKYO PLOT TRIAL

THE DEATH SENTENCE DEMANDED

FOR THREE NAVAL CADETS

Tokyo, Sept. 11.

The Procurator has demanded the imposition of the death sentence on three of the naval cadets involved in the Tokyo outrages of May 15, 1932.

The three upon whom the full penalty of the law is invoked are subalterns named Koga, Mikami and Kuroiwa.

In three other cases, the Procurator is demanding life imprisonment, and he is asking for sentences of from three to six years' imprisonment for the other naval cadets concerned.

THE RINGLEADERS.

Heavier sentences are demanded for the naval participants than for the military for whom eight years' imprisonment was considered sufficient by the Procurator, as the naval men are regarded as the instigators, the ringleaders and the seniors.

Meanwhile, there is a growing movement throughout the country urging leniency owing to "the patriotic motives" impelling the accused in their actions.

"GHOSTLY" INFLUENCES.

The spirits of the dead appear to have played fully as important a part as the teachings of the living in inspiring the actions of the young men concerned. This, at least, is the impression given by the evidence brought to light in the course of the court-martials.

The "ghostly influences" mentioned by the defendants include:

1.—Lieutenant Araki, who committed suicide at Nanking in March, 1927, to atone for the "disgrace" of having been disarmed with his men when the Nationalist troops were pouring into the city.

2.—Lieutenant-Commander Kusakari, who committed suicide in the summer of 1930 as a protest against the London Naval Treaty, which he considered gave Japan too small a ratio for the requirements of national defence.

3.—Commander Fujii, a naval

NAVY EXTENDS CONGRATULATIONS

The following message was despatched to the Nanchang officers, on their release from captivity, by the Commander-in-Chief, officers and men of the China Fleet: "The Commander-in-Chief, officers and men of the China Fleet send their warmest congratulations on your safe return and hope you are none the worse for your trying adventures."

The reply received by the Naval Authorities was:—

The three merchant Service officers convey their thanks to the Commander-in-Chief, Captains and men of the China Fleet for their very kind message."

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

Make Yourself This Smart Picture Hat

IT'S SIMPLY CROCHETED FROM STRIPS OF TWISTED CREPE PAPER

Picture hats serve a double purpose, now that hot days are here. They are the most ornamental type of headgear that you can wear. And, at the same time, they are a big help in the all-important matter of keeping cool.

You can make this wide-brimmed hat with its smart shallow crown. You simply crochet it from one fold of crepe paper!

It is the perfect summer hat, because it comes in the category of the not-too-rough-straw type, yet enough to have a certain casual informality about it that is perfect, this season. Moreover, costing so little, you can have a hat for every summer costume!

This hat is made from three colours, sand, vivid green and dark brown. Cut the crepe paper across the grain in one-half inch wide strips. Stretch carefully, then twist the strips loosely. Use a steel crochet hook No. 6. Use the single crochet stitch, inserting your hook each time in the back half of the stitch.

Here are directions for making the hat:

Crown: With the sand crepe paper, chain 3 stitches, put hook in first stitch and slip stitch to form a ring. 1st round: Crochet 7 stitches in ring. 2nd round: Put 2 s. c. in each stitch. 3rd round: 1 s. c. in first stitch, 2 s. c. in next, repeat to end of round. Continue to increase about 6 times in a round, equal distance apart, but not directly over those of the preceding round, so increases will not show. Keep work flat for 6-12 inches in diameter. Continue crocheting, 1 stitch in each stitch until the crown is about 1-1/4 inches deep. Break thread, join brown strand and crochet half way around crown, chain 1 stitch, add green and crochet around other half of crown. Continue 1 s. c. in each stitch. 7th crocheting in this manner half green and half brown for 7 rounds. Brim: With brown crepe, chain half the head size, break thread and add green. Chain the rest of the head size. Crochet 1 round half brown and half green. Break thread and add sand. Work 3 rounds sand plain without adding stitches. 6th round: Crochet 1 s. c. in 1st stitch, 2 s. c. in next, repeat to end of round. 6th round: 1 s. c. in each stitch. 7th crocheting in this manner half

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts-Barton

You'll double your beauty if you get rid of a double chin.

And you'll stand a better chance of retaining your good looks if you take steps to prevent yourself from ever developing one.

Almost nothing detracts from a woman's beauty as much as a double chin. There are things—simple things—which you can do to keep that extra roll of flesh, just below your normal chin, from growing.

All good beauty shops give special treatments which will, in time, reduce a double chin. If you can not afford to take a whole series of treatments, at least go and get one treatment. Watch the operator carefully. Then get the proper tonics and lotions and go home to do the treatments yourself.

You will need, first of all, a patten. Pat your chin, upward and outward, for ten minutes twice a day. Get a patten with a flexible handle and don't strike your flesh hard enough to bruise it.

Special muscle toning lotions are to be used in conjunction with a patten. They strengthen sag-

Technique of Shrinking Large Pores

By Alicia Hart

Don't treat enlarged pores lightly! Consider them in the same category with any other blemish which mars your beauty.

If you already have enlarged pores, you should take steps immediately to remedy them. If you don't have a single pore which is even slightly enlarged, remember that prevention is always worth while. It's much easier to prevent skin troubles than it is to cure them.

There are various excellent pore creams on the market to-day. Used conscientiously, they tend to ing muscles. Astringents are excellent too. Get your beauty shop to recommend a good one.

A chin strap is a necessity if you take your chin reducing seriously. Have one that really fits the size of your chin and face. It is put on at night before you go to bed and left on all night. Pat your chin with an astringent before you adjust the chin strap.

When your face has been thoroughly cleaned and steamed, press out all the blackheads which come out easily. Be very careful not to bruise the skin.

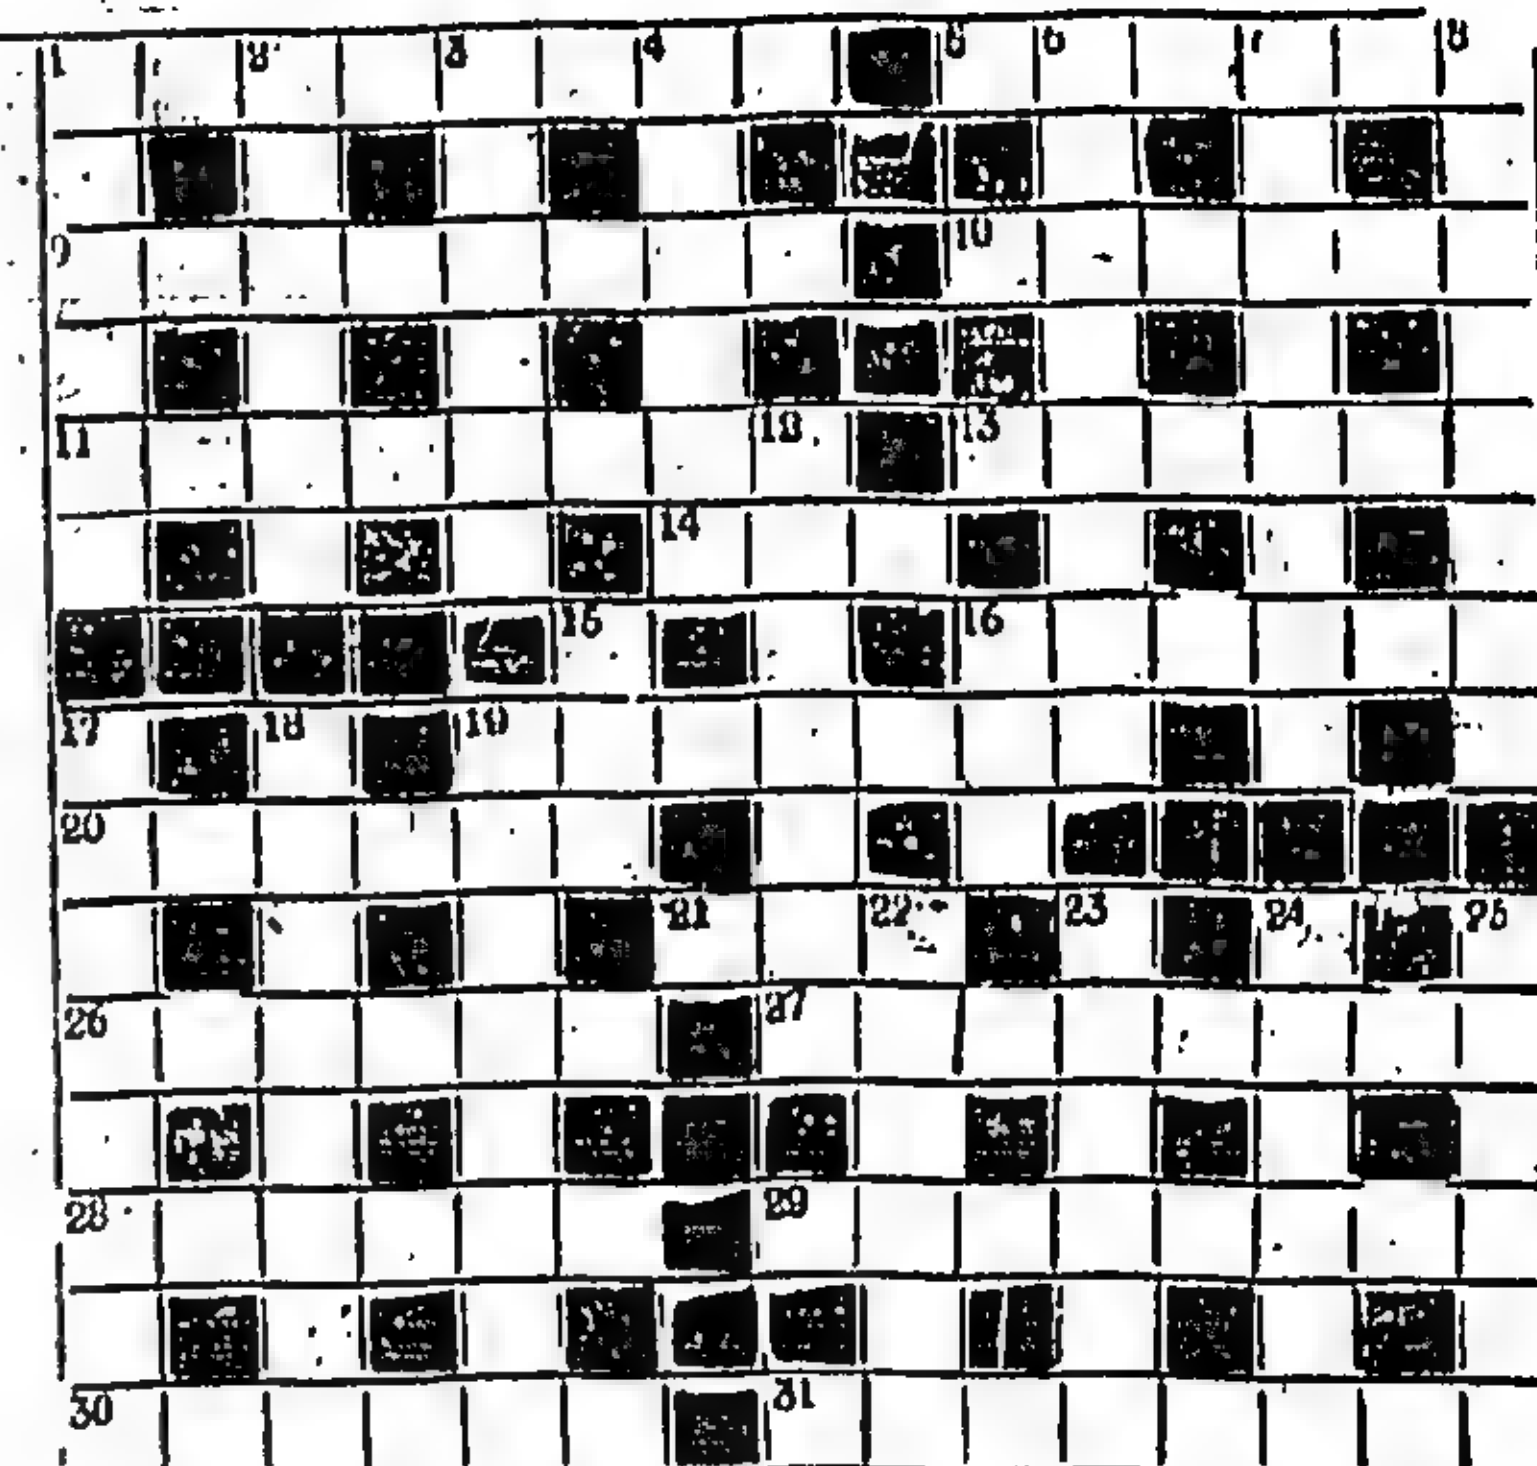

Then apply a pore cream. Plan to leave it on at least two hours. It is an excellent idea to use it just before you go to bed. That way, the cream remains on all night and you get full benefit from it.

Pore creams are greaseless preparations. They have an astringent quality—that's why your pores shrink if pore cream is used frequently.

For the woman whose pores are enlarged, pore cream can be used every night for a couple of months and then twice a week.

Even if you don't have a single pore which shows under your makeup, it is advisable to use pore cream once a week. Dust and dirt, makeup and inactive cells which cause blackheads and other blemishes may eventually cause pores to become apparent.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEHOLD HERE TO-DAY

EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARL HARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, married DICK HADLEY, a construction superintendent. He wants her to give up her job but she refuses. Eve does not want her employers to know she is married so they keep the marriage secret several months. At Christmas they announce it. They spend a brief vacation at the home of Eve's parents.

Back at the office MARYA VLAD, fashion artist, and AILENE SMITH, stenographer, greet Eve excitedly. Eve knows that MONA ALLEN, the new copy writer, dislikes her and is trying to cause trouble for her. Harnes, the advertising manager, has told Eve that she would not have received a recent promotion if he had known she was married.

Eve receives a letter from IRENE PRENTISS, a former schoolmate who lives in New York. Irene is playing the stock market and advises Eve to do the same thing. Without telling Dick, Eve visits the stock department of a bank.

CHAPTER XVIII

Eve did not sleep well that night. She awoke several times, only to drift back into troubled dreams of Bixby's store, a stock exchange, and finally her old home. In the morning she was so quiet that Dick was worried.

"You're usually skipping about all over the place by 7:30," he said. "What's the matter? Don't you feel well?"

"I'm all right," Eve assured him. "I was just thinking. I mustn't forget to write to Mother to-day. It's almost a week since her last letter came."

Dick approved of the way in which Eve and her mother kept in close touch with each other. Once every week Mrs. Bayless wrote long letters, painfully written in her cramped handwriting, filled with news of the family, the relatives and Eve's old friends. And once or twice a week Eve dashed off a reply on her typewriter. Her father grumbled, "Eve's letters are too damned long for any man to read. Tell me in a few words what she said."

But when Kate Bayless received the letter Eve wrote that day she hesitated to tell her husband what it contained.

"Mother, dear," Eve had written, "I wonder if you could get from Dad the money he is keeping for me in the emergency fund. You know how Esther and I always saved our pennies and nickels and put them in the little red elephant banks until there was enough to deposit down town? Dad said that when we grew up we would have that money for an emergency fund in case anything happened. So I wish he would let me have the money now for something very, very special. I don't want him or Dick to know about it but I'll let you in on the secret. I'm not going to spend the money—I'm going to invest it."

Because her daughter had asked her to do it Kate did try to get the money. But Hank Bayless remained as adamant as a rock. He refused to draw out one penny of the sum unless his wife told him what she intended to do with it. Finally Kate told him that Eve wanted it.

"Why should she want that money?" he thundered. "She's getting a good salary and she has a husband with a good job who would be glad to support her if she'd stop this foolishness about working and give him the chance! Now what does she need money for?"

"I'll bet she's up to some damned foolishness!" he went on. "Well, she'll get no help from me! She's gone into debt, likely as not, for something she doesn't need. Has she written anything lately about buying anything?"

Reluctantly Kate clutched at this straw. "She did write a while back about buying some furniture." "Furniture?" Hank repeated, puzzled. "Why I thought they weren't going to buy furniture yet. I thought they lived in a furnished apartment."

"They do," Kate answered patiently. "But this was something special Eve wanted. She saw it on one of their trips. It was—antiques."

"Antiques," Hank growled. "With my hard-earned money? Well, I'll be damned! No, mother; tell her 'no.' Not by a jugful!"

So Eve received less than she had expected and the draft was made out to her mother from the little fund Mrs. Bayless had saved for so long. Kate had made one more sacrifice for her daughter and Eve had to be content with the amount she received.

She wrote her mother a long letter of appreciation. The money was to be considered as a loan, Eve explained, and she promised to repay it as soon as she had made a gain of that amount. She would hold this for working capital. "You know, Mother," she wrote, "it's impossible to get a start without a little capital." Kate smiled as she read that. To think her quarters and half dollars, saved from the household allowance and slipped into the cracked sugar bowl on the top pantry shelf, should have grown into "capital"! What would this enterprising daughter of hers do next?

She would have been surprised to know what Eve was about.

Afraid she might have difficulty keeping her activities from Dick if she played the market through a broker's office, Eve had decided to operate through the bank. She felt, however, as though she were being cheated of the thrill supposed to be connected with playing the stock market. Eve enjoyed excitement and there was little to stimulate her imagination in the stock and bond department of the City Bank.

Mr. Brown suggested four stocks which were on the rising market. "For a quick turnover," he advised, "these are as likely as any to advance."

Eve's funds were so limited that it seemed advisable to concentrate on one as a beginning. She placed her money on Pure Soap Inc.

Eve glanced at the pretty young elevator girl in a patronizing manner as she rode up to the office floor of Bixby's. "One knows so little at that age," she told herself. "I wouldn't want to be a year younger than I am, for see the knowledge I gain all the time! Why, only yesterday I didn't know what it was like to invest in the stock market and to-day I feel rich already!"

That afternoon she worked swiftly, deftly and happily. Arlene commented on her mood.

"I'm having a good day," Eve admitted. "I've turned out my copy in about half the time it usually takes."

"Well, I envy you!" Arlene grumbled. "It would take a million dollars to make me feel like that to-day."

"Oh, a few hundred thousand can do a lot!" Eve answered airily. At 2:30 she sent the office-boy to buy a copy of the stock edition of an evening newspaper. When it came Eve turned excitedly to the financial page. Pure Soap, Inc., had gone up two points.

Eve made a mental note of her profit. "When it goes up 10 points," she decided, "I'll sell and reinvest the profit in something else. Oh, this is going to be fun!"

That evening she watched Dick as he unfolded the final edition which was always waiting for them at the hall door when they arrived home. He scanned page one and then turned to the financial pages which he perused thoroughly before turning back to read the local news. Eve had not known before that Dick was interested in stock quotations. Was he playing the market, too?

After her return from New York Eve had tried to avoid Freda Carter. She blamed Freda for the unpleasant incident with Theron Reece.

But when Freda invited Eve to a party in her apartment the next evening there seemed nothing to do but accept the invitation. The buyer had come to the advertising office with some frocks for Marya to sketch. As she was leaving she turned abruptly toward Eve.

"Oh, I almost forgot!" Freda said. "I'm throwing a party to-morrow night and I'd love to have you girls come."

She had only a slight acquaintance with Mona Allen and her glance was for Eve and Arlene but before either of them could reply Mona gave Freda a melting smile and exclaimed, "Oh, how perfectly sweet of you! I'd simply adore a party!"

Mona paused expectantly. Eve was thinking, "Freda didn't mean to include her. The invitation was for Arlene and me. Is she going to let Mona get away with that?"

Without particular cordiality Freda assured Mona that she was glad she could come. Arlene also accepted the invitation.

Eve liked Freda but she could never be sure about Freda's friends. There was Theron Reece, for example. But Eve was certain he would not be at the party.

This was February and he had told her he was not due in Lake City until the week before Easter. Reece had mentioned his itinerary in detail at dinner that evening in New York. Going to this party, Eve assured herself, would make it easier to refuse a later invitation—that might include Reece. Furthermore Dick had announced that he would not be home to dinner the following evening.

And so, with feelings that mingled both satisfaction and uneasiness, Eve assured Freda Carter that she would come to the party.

(To Be Continued).

A mild sensation was stirred in London when Queen Mary, whose dresses always have been down to her shoes, arrived at a London exhibit in a gown seven inches above ground! All other women present wore skirts sweeping the grass.

WORLD CRISIS

A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer, and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme. The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of—High excitement prevailed in New York's financial district when brokers, gasping for breath, were driven from the Stock Exchange by fumes which police said came from tear gas bombs thrown into an open pipe of the ventilating system. Though no one was reported overcome, trading was suspended for the day. Here's the scene as emergency police squads arrived on the scene.

The milk strike in up-state New York took its most violent turn when state troopers and striking farmers engaged in four separate, high-temperature battles. One of the fiercest was fought near Rochester, as a striker sought to protect himself from club blows rained on him by state troopers.

FLASH! The world's tallest building is struck by lightning! It has been struck 100 times or more and there has never been any damage! That's because the building's metal covering, acting as a lightning rod, attracts the lightning bolts. This is a remarkable scene of the latest "strike" as recorded by an amateur photographer's small camera.

HOLLYWOOD AND
KIDNAPPINGPREVENTIVE EFFORTS

Hollywood, California.

Roused by the latest outbreak of kidnapping in the U.S.A. Hollywood is redoubling its precautions against kidnapers.

Fear of kidnapping, always present among the colony's 20,000 actors and actresses, has been heightened by recent abductions in other parts of the country.

Leading studios already guarded by private police, are discussing formation of a "Scotland Yard" to protect their film stars and directors, and Los Angeles county and city officials are taking precautionary steps.

The local sheriff has a group of secret investigators to handle kidnapping cases, and has warned wealthy families to be on their guard.

The Chief of Police has ordered his men to keep a finger on bootleggers who have been forced out of business by repeal of liquor laws, and has issued orders to shoot to kill in combatting kidnapers.

Hollywood's concern is not one of idle apprehension. Two men convicted several years ago of contriving a plot to abduct one of the most famous of its film celebrities,

Mary Pickford, are serving sentences of from 10 to 50 years.

Mariene Dietrich, the German actress now in Europe, had bars put on her Beverly Hills home, and later hired guards for her young daughter 24 hours a day. An armed guard accompanied them to Europe.

PROTECTING CHILDREN.

Ann Harding has a special guard for her daughter, June Bannister.

Harold Lloyd, the millionaire, bespectacled funster whose estate is a showplace, has a guard for his three children. So has Gloria Swanson.

One studio already is perfecting a detective organization in its private police system to keep an ear close to underworld movements which might bode evil for its stars and officials.

So marked has become the apprehension of film personages they are accompanied by bodyguards even when they attend theatre "premiere" (first nights) and other public functions. When a star travels, studio officials frequently arrange with police departments en route to afford them special protection.—Reuter.

U.S. AND SOUTH

ly rated one of the most experienced American diplomats was shifted from Brussels to Brazil by President Roosevelt in his admini-

Mr. Gibson's years of experience with the problem of disarmament, at a time when it seemed that the Roosevelt administration was getting out with high hopes to get somewhere in the disarmament field, appeared indispensible.

But diplomatic and trade circles in Washington are looking upon

Mr. Gibson's appointment to Rio de Janeiro as a significant move in the Roosevelt administration's

THIS QUEER WORLD STRANGE EVENTS OF THE DAY AN AESOP FABLE COMES TRUE

Queer things, some of them very queer, which happen all over the world are recorded by Reuter Correspondents. Here is a selection:—

A monument to Mr. Thomas Edison, the inventor, is being set up by the villagers of Yahata, in the Kyoto prefecture.

This is why. When Edison was creating the electric lamp, he lit upon the use of Japanese bamboo after carbonisation, for the filaments. Hence a demand for bamboo, bringing wealth to Yahata.

Scientists at the American Museum of Natural history are working on a "jig-saw puzzle" with 20,000 pieces.

When completed, the "puzzle" will be a skeleton of one of the rarest of dinosaurs, the "dreadnoughts" that inhabited parts of North America millions of years ago.

The "puzzle" may take two years to solve.

A man in Valencia, Spain, has confessed that he committed a murder 13 years ago.

He says that pangs of conscience prompted him to give himself up. Aesop has been proved right at the John Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Maryland.

Following the annual tortoise race in the hospital grounds, the winner was pitted against a hare.

Just as in the Aesop fable, the tortoise plugged along steadily and passed the finishing line well ahead of its speedy but erratic rival.

Mr. McDavidson fell from a ninth floor window of his hotel in New York.

He awoke smiling, in hospital, with only a slight bump on his head.

Eight broken window awnings showed where he had fallen.

The days of highwaymen are not past in some parts of Spain.

Twenty masked "men of the road" rode up to a farm near Seville in broad daylight.

They stole the aged farmer's corn, and shot him dead when he tried to frustrate them.

No arrests have yet been made.

And here is the story of another grim survival from the past, says Reuter from Bulawayo, Rhodesia.

A native woman suspected of having caused the death of a number of children by witchcraft was burned to death by three natives who set fire to her hut.

The three men have been sentenced to death at the Salisbury Criminal Sessions.

Fear that a shortage of rabbits will cause foxes to attack lambs

REMAINS CRUCIFIED FOR AN HOUR

Madrid. Fritz Toepfer, the man who claims that he feels no pain, has caused a sensation in Barcelona. He remained "crucified," with nails through his hands and feet, for one hour.

He attributes his condition to a war accident. He was an aviator in the German army, and was brought down by enemy fire.

On the point of death, he was revived, but since then he has been immune to ordinary pain. Doctors in several countries have studied his case.—Reuter.

has led men to devise a new method of destroying them, says Reuter from Adelaide, South Australia.

The shooter hides in a bush, and blows a special whistle.

The fox thinks it is the squeal of a trapped rabbit, comes out into the open—and is shot.

Jealousy caused a 76-year-old man to quarrel with his wife, aged 70, and to stab her to death in San Sebastian, Spain.

He said that he could not bear to think that she might not love him any more.

A cat saved fourteen lives when fire broke out in a boarding house at Johannesburg.

It jumped on to the bed of its mistress and awakened her. Then she gave the alarm, and everyone rushed to safety from the blazing building.

A gypsy has been arrested in Almeria, Spain.

It is alleged that he sold his child, aged 5, in exchange for a donkey.

Tourists on the Eichberg, near Gloggnitz, Lower Austria, came upon a wild-looking man in a cave among the rocks.

At first he fled from them, but eventually spoke to them and proved to be an educated man born in Vienna.

Long unemployment has caused him to flee the haunts of man. He lives on berries and mushrooms, and says that he is so happy that he has no wish to return to civilisation.

Two kind-hearted Spanish waiters are walking from Alicante to Puerto Santa Maria, a distance of 430 miles, in order to serve a hearty meal to prisoners in goal there for political offences.

They will cook the meal themselves.

Mr. John Miller borrowed a book from a friend nearly thirty years ago, says Reuter from Morganton, North Carolina.

He has just returned it, with the message: "I'm sorry I kept it so long."

The friend has been dead for some time.—Reuter.

officer of the ultra-nationalist school, who was killed during the Sino-Japanese hostilities at Shanghai last year.

OTHER INSPIRATION.

In addition to the "ghostly influences" of these three men, the defendants all claimed to have received inspiration from studying the lives and actions of those who brought about the Taikwa Reforms in the 7th Century and the Meiji Restoration 60 years ago, actions which, though they brought great good, were frequently both violent and ruthless in execution.

The Great Saigo, the leader of the Satsuma rebellion of 1877, was also quoted as providing inspiration for the intended coup d'etat, for Saigo, like themselves, rose not against the Emperor, to whom he was passionately devoted, but against the Government, which he considered to be acting contrary to the true interests of the country.

Tribute was also paid by the defendants to the assassins of the Regent, Kanon no Kami, who was slain in 1860 by reactionary "patriots" because his overtures to the foreign Powers were viewed with alarm, as contrary to Japan's interests.

Testimony was also given to the influence exerted by the deeds of the 47 Ronin who, in 1703, avenged the death of their master by slaying the lord who had caused his death and then, in turn, committed hara-kiri.

LENIENCY EXPLAINED.

From these and other deeds have arisen that curious code which permits the Japanese as a nation to view with such extraordinary calmness and leniency the actions of those who commit acts of violence in the name of loyalty and patriotism, provided the perpetrators are prepared to prove their sincerity of purpose either by subsequent self-immolation or by voluntary surrender to the authorities.

This code has been strictly followed by the present defendants, for, having committed their acts of violence on May 16, last year, they surrendered in a body to the gendarmic authorities for punishment and, during the court-martials, have petitioned for capital punishment for themselves.

It is significant that two of the cadets involved testified to having visited the graves of the 47 Ronin on the morning of May 15 in order to pay their respects to the spirits of those whose actions of 230 years ago they themselves were about to emulate.—Reuter.

BAG SNATCHER CAUGHT

INDIAN WATCHMAN'S GOOD WORK

Six months hard labour was passed by Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, on Yu Kit, an unemployed, who admitted snatching a handbag containing $21.70 from a widow, Leung Long-shin, in Kennedy Road about 7 p.m. last night.

Sub-Inspector McLellan said that the complainant had just alighted from a car, and was walking across the road to her residence, when the defendant came up from behind and snatched the bag which was under her right arm. A private Indian watchman, Milkha Singh, gave chase and arrested defendant up the hillside.

Mr. Schofield complimented the watchman on his success in arresting the thief, and also ordered the defendant to be sent back to the country at the end of his prison sentence.

STOWAWAYS ABOARD PRES. HOOVER

AN AUSTRALIAN AND AN AMERICAN

Wazala Franz (21) and Frank Whitney (23), described as Australian and American respectively, were charged before Mr. Butlers at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with stowing away on the President Hoover, the former from Hongkong to Manila, and the latter from Manila to Hongkong.

It was stated that Franz was found on board after the ship had left Hongkong, and the officers decided to bring him back to Hongkong. After the ship had left Manila, they discovered Whitney, who had hidden himself when the ship was in Manila.

A fine of $50 or one month was imposed on each of the defendants.

NEW ANTIDIPHTHERIA TOXOID AN EFFICACIOUS GERM REACTION NOT SEVERE

Montgomery, Alabama.

Fortifications in children's bodies against attacks of the dreaded diphtheria germs are claimed to be built more quickly and efficiently than ever before by a new antidiphtheria toxoid developed by the Alabama Health Department.

The "fortification builders" are substances known as anti-germs or germ-fighters, which are natural and bigger enemies of diphtheria germs. A regiment of germ-fighters in one injection of the new toxoid will complete the process of fortifying the body, whereas formerly it took three injections to finish the job.

90 PER CENT. EFFICACIOUS.

Not only are the fortifications built more speedily but they are claimed to be well-nigh impregnable. The toxoid has made more than 90 per cent of the children on whom it was tried immune against the disease. Immunization of the child population against diphtheria should be greatly advanced with the aid of the new toxoid, it is believed, because the amount of toxoid formerly necessary to immunize one child now is sufficient for two or three.

Diphtheria now kills above five persons, mostly children, in every 100,000 of the American population each year. That is already a tremendous reduction from 1900, when forty persons per 100,000 died of the disease annually in the States which then kept records.

The toxoid consists of the toxins or poisons produced by diphtheria germs, which when injected call forth the body's defence forces against the disease instead of infecting with the disease itself. Formalin is used as a preservative for it. This toxin is the same material used in preparing the toxin-anti-toxin now used in immunizing children against diphtheria. In making the new kind of toxoid, alum is added to the mixture, which separates the potent part of the toxoid from the rest, the extra liquid is drawn off, and the potent part is dissolved in a salt solution.

REACTION NOT SEVERE.

By this method weak toxoids formerly not usable in immunization can be built up to the desired strength and others that are too strong can be diluted to standard strength. The toxoid is injected under the skin. Reactions due to impurities, sometimes suffered by those receiving the immunization treatment, are not as severe with the new toxoid, showing it is of a high degree of purity.

The new toxoid is absorbed more slowly by the body than the old, with the result that the tissues of the body are exposed longer to the action of the anti-diphtheria germ-fighters. This enables the body's defences to be built up completely by the injection.

Babies can be injected with the toxoid any time after three months of age.—Reuter.

M.P.s Must Think Whilst Speaking

NEW ORDER FOR ORATORS

Prague. Deputies in the Czechoslovak Parliament will not, in future, be allowed to read their speeches.

This is to be enforced by a new Parliamentary order, because it is alleged that in the past Deputies have read their speeches without thinking what they have been saying.

On several occasions they have made, in the middle of a speech, such remarks as "At this point I laugh ironically."

In addition, groundless absence from more than five plenary sessions of the Chamber will be punished by suspension of one month's salary and official publication of the fact.

Continued absence will bring with it suspension of six months' salary and publication of the fact.

TOWNS GROW OUT OF JUNGLE ACCESSIBLE ONLY BY AIR YET MODERN IN EVERY WAY

Port Moresby, New Guinea.

Modern towns, with hospitals, electric light and wireless, have risen out of the jungle hinterland of New Guinea. There is no road to them; only aircraft can reach them over the mountains.

The development of the Bulolo, Wau and Edio Creek goldfields has caused this transformation.

Yesterday, the jungle echoed to the menacing growl of the war drums and the scream of the headhunters.

To-day there is, instead, a clatter of huge dredges, and the deep-throated roar of giant monoplanes. Yesterday, painted cannibals wearing feather headdresses, held dances, feasts and initiation ceremonies.

To-day, instead, the same savages, grimy, wearing battered felt hats, are working under the direction of a handful of white men, and are using the latest machinery to win gold from the earth.

HOSPITALS AND BUNGALOWS. Surrounded by the jungle there are hospitals and comfortable bungalows equipped with wireless, gramophones, pianos, electric light, and great mining machines weighing hundreds of tons.

Yet there is no road through the towering mountains to these tropic goldfields. Everything has been brought in by aeroplane. Nothing like it has been done in the world before.

Sweeping to 8,000 feet over densely wooded ranges and steep ravines, the monoplanes covered within an hour the journey from Salamoa, which would take the fastest native carrier an arduous week to perform.

Fearlessness, resource and an indomitable spirit has been shown by the pioneer miner, and equal qualities by the airman who are conducting the services on which depends the ability to operate the fields.

MARVEL OF ENGINEERS. No wonder their joint achievements are the marvel of engineers and aviators the world over.

Twelve years have passed since "Shark Eye" Park, a man who had a magic power to travel in safety alone among the fiercest natives, first discovered gold on Koranga Creek, a tributary of the Bulolo River, and it was Bill Royal,

PRAYER FOR PEACE.

FINAL TRIBUTE TO VISCOUNT GREY

London, Sept. 9. The body of Lord Grey of Fallodon was taken from Fallodon to Darlington for cremation this morning. Only relatives, with members of the indoor and outdoor staffs at Fallodon, were present.

Meanwhile, services were held in Newcastle Cathedral and in Embleton Parish Church, near Fallodon.

A special prayer was offered for the peace of the world—the wish nearest to the heart of the dead statesman.—British Wireless.

penniless and desperate, after years of misfortune, who struck deposits at the head of Edio Creek.

It is only six years since Lieutenant Mustard flew the first aeroplane—an old DH37, purchased cheaply from the Commonwealth, from Lae to Wau.

Yet to-day, two big companies, the Bulolo Gold Dredging Ltd., and the New Guinea Goldfields, and a smaller company, called Daydown, and numerous syndicates, are working these fields, and gold worth $20,000 is being flown monthly to the coast.—Reuter.

THE BUDGET

If the mechanical labour of estimate-preparing by the different departments of Government is put on one side, budget-making in Hongkong would seem to be a light enough task. The process in past experience has been simple enough: marked conservatism in revenue forecasts and approval of expenditure within the limits thus set. Points of high policy seldom arise to worry the Colonial Treasurer: he may also pursue his course without need to consider the effect his proposals may have on the finance market or the stock exchange. It seems straightforward enough, yet it is an undoubted fact that it is more difficult to prophesy the intentions of the Hongkong Government than it is those of Mr. Neville Chamberlain. String-pulling is perhaps easier to detect at home, but that is not the only explanation, though the quest for the solution is otherwise vain. There seems an excellent opportunity this year for a reduction in the burden of taxation—we have suggested postal rates as one direction in which benefit might be bestowed without too great a loss to the Treasury—but what hints have been received of official proposals are not exactly reliable. On the expenditure side also, prophecy can have little foundation. We know, of course, that the high cost of personnel will not alter greatly. We have already been told that provision for a new Kowloon Magistracy will appear in the Public Works Extraordinary Estimates—as it did last year. A fairly large vote for the new G.C.H. is to be expected and Kowloon will have cause for complaint if there is no sign of an intention to push on with the scheme for a new Central British School. Another fairly safe guess, in the light of revelations in the last few days, is that a useful sum will be voted for the creation of a Naval Volunteer Reserve, a project recovered from the pigeon-hole after a lapse of three or four years. These are a few of what appear to be obvious items on the expenditure side and will arouse little enthusiasm, though there might be outcry were some of them absent. But we should like to see an indication of courage in the Budget for once in a while. We could, for instance, calmly contemplate maintenance of duties and taxation at their present high level in return for a definite programme of social services, a forward policy in the

NOTES OF THE DAY

HARBIN CANARD

The origin of the remarkable story about American acquisition of concessions in the Maritime Province is sufficient to condemn it. The Harbin Times is controlled by a group of Japanese whose sole aim, judging from the policy of mendacious invention steadily pursued in the last twelve months, is to promote a complete rupture in Soviet-Japanese relations. A more marked example of Jingolism rampant would be difficult of discovery. Only when consideration is given to the question of the strength of opinion in Japan and Manchuria behind this overt hostility is it to be regarded at all seriously—and the correct answer is one which even the Soviet Government has failed to ascertain.

NAZI TERMS

The Nazis are now offering "terms" for "a peaceful settlement" with the Austrian Government. The tone adopted is slightly more moderate, though Herr Habicht could hardly be accused of a conciliatory effort. Again the threat of force is found, although recent developments would suggest that Germany is losing out in the diplomatic struggle which is centring round Austria. Italy has thrown her weight on the side of an Austro-Hungarian union.

ITALY'S IDEA

France and the Little Entente, in accordance with the treaties and with various protocols, have resolutely opposed Anschluss. Italy likewise made it clear that it was not disposed to facilitate construction of a Greater Germany, which would extend to the Brenner Pass—that is to say, to the frontiers of Italy. In these circumstances, it is hardly too much to say that the recent visit of Dr. Gombos, the Hungarian Prime Minister, to Herr Hitler, was in the capacity of a virtual ambassador of Signor Mussolini. His chief business was to plead that the best course for Germany at present was to favour an Austro-Hungarian union to save Austria from being thrown into the arms of the Little Entente or from becoming an instrument of France. That, for Signor Mussolini, would be the ideal solution, for the whole of Hungarian policy is pivoted on Italy, and a new Austria-Hungary could never conceivably be strong enough to cause disquietude to Italy. Moreover, an Austro-Hungarian bloc would be a counterweight to the Little Entente, and would help to secure for Italy in central and eastern Europe the role of arbiter it desires.

FRANCE'S FEARS

The French Foreign Minister appears to have lent a willing ear to the suggestion that Austria and Hungary united would not be tempted by the offer of German economic concessions to enter into a veritable alliance with Germany. But against this policy other French voices are loudly raised. It is contended that, in reality, an Austro-Hungarian union is not as is represented, an alternative to an Austro-German Anschluss. On the contrary, it may prove to be an extension of the Anschluss. A united Austro-Hungary might still come under the domination of Germany. Far better, it is proclaimed, a simple Anschluss, than a larger Anschluss of which an Austro-Hungarian union would be but the first stage. The Little Entente is likewise troubled at the prospect of the proposed union of the central European countries. It fears lest the union, under Italian if not under German patronage, would be employed as a weapon against Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and Rumania. There might be an immense revival of the old project of Mittel-Europa. The true solution, if it could be accomplished, would appear to be a collaboration, especially in the economic domain, with the mem-

HOBBIES OF THE FAMOUS

By DOUGLAS WEST

THE discovery of a white spot on the planet Saturn by Mr. Will Hay, who is as much at home with a telescope trained on the heavens as he is on the music-hall stage, is an example of the debt which the arts and sciences owe, and have owed in every age, to the labours of men with hobbies.

Congreve regarded his plays as diversions of a man of fashion. Prince Rupert, the cavalry leader, dabbled in chemistry to the world's profit. Trollope wrote his novels before going to his day's work at the Post Office. Lord Grey of Falloden found solace during his long tenure of the Foreign Office in watching the birds in his garden, and has recorded their habits in books of enduring value and charm.

Mr. Churchill is a painter or a bricklayer in his moments of leisure. Mr. H. G. Wells used to play elaborate war games with toy soldiers on battlefields designed by himself. Mr. Maxton makes mordant sketches of his fellow members in the House of Commons. Most men of active mind discover early in life the need of a hobby in order to avoid the tedium of unoccupied hours. Many turn to collecting, and find lasting pleasure in the acquisition of pictures, silver, china, stamps, and coins, or the more exotic debris of the world. Mr. Henry Ford, for instance, collects old gin bottles—a melancholy hobby for a teetotaler.

Sir Henry Wood, the conductor, is a skilful amateur carpenter. Mr. George Robey is not only an excellent performer on the violin but also makes his own violins. His attitude may be judged from the fact that Kreisler has played on one of them at a concert.

NEEDLEWORK EXPERTS.

Lord Gainsford and Mr. Ernest Theagar are adepts at needlework embroidery, and their work is much valued by their friends. The ex-Kaiser at Doorn rivals Gladstone in the zest with which he fells trees and saws wood. A forest has already fallen to his axe. Lord Ashfield is devoted to the same hobby. Ex-King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has been compelled in exile to forgo the royal hobby of driving railway engines. It is not, perhaps, surprising to learn that Lord Londsdale has a vast collection of whips, but Mr. Grantham, K.C., who, when not engaged in his duties at the Bar, has collected railway tickets from every country in the world to a total of nearly 20,000, can claim credit for having selected one of the most unusual hobbies of all.

The Duke of Bedford collects wild animals and has a private zoo at Woburn Abbey, where the arriving guest may be startled by the sight of a giraffe in a typically English park. Sir Henry Dickens, the only surviving son of the novelist, once gave his hobby as "seventeen grandchildren and one great-grandchild."

Hobbies have always been encouraged in the Royal Family.

THE SINS OF THIN MEN

By THOMAS JAY.

IN an age when every standard of decent conduct has either been torn down or is threatened with destruction, when quite young girls smoke cigarettes and prefer a cinema to the British Museum, we stout men will feel grateful to the eminent member of the British Medical Association who declared, with absolute truth, I am convinced, that fatness goes with mental fitness.

That stoutness brings with it mental efficiency and an urge for the higher things in thought and action will not be denied. We have only to think of the lives of our onetime friends, those thin friends of our youthful elfin days.

I remember one named Alfred Pingle, who always remained thin, but with sad results, for, alas! at an early age or so I am pained to learn, he became addicted to golf, and at billiards has even been known to leave the white over the pocket. Such a life, of course, brought its own results, and I find Mr. Pingle has now been elected a member of his urban district council.

STOUT MEN FOR GENIUS.

Yet another thin friend was Marmaduke Scissors, who once openly purchased cigarettes for his own selfish use after the clock had struck eight at night. When last heard of, I was informed, much to my distress, that he had sunk even lower and had been known to step off the escalator with the wrong foot. Needless to say, all correspondence between us ceased from that moment.

That it is to stout men that the nation must look for its genius cannot be denied, and history is our support in that contention. Have we so soon forgotten the late Professor Mildew, author of that famous treatise on "The Prevalence of Spinal Curvature in Oysters," who was last in weight, and to whose remarkable activities the world owes so much? It was Professor Mildew who, pained by the distress of nervous diners, invented shock absorbers for table jollies, and who conceived the idea, in the interest of insomniacs, of placing saucers of lubricating oil on the floor at night, to keep the mice from squeaking.

Then again it was another stout thinker, no less than Dr. Edwin Verdigris, who is now at work on a method of molting down rainbows for paint works, who invented the scheme for harnessing all the power and energy wasted by Parliamentary candidates during general elections in shaking hands with their constituents, a vast waste of power which is now, happily, being utilised by the Central Electricity Board.

The Very Idea!

THE PLOT THICKENS

By Eddie Kelly, with Apologies.
WE have been to the pictures lately. You'll notice that as we go along, Besides, what with "Cavalcade" coming along, we feel inspired to do better and bigger things. So we've written an original and masterly scenario for the screen. The plot is laid in a police station. Okay, let's go:

"Kelly, we've got the goods on you! Now, do you want to come clean and tell everything, or . . ."
"Y-y-y-y-es, Mr. Wolfe! I d-d-d-d-did it! Do you think the judge will . . ."
"I dunno, Eddie. If you spill everything, though, I'll do what I can for you."

"Well, I guess I didn't realize what I was doing. I really loved her. Only, for the last few years, she . . . oh, she seemed to change. And the way she acted . . . I . . . I mean, I didn't feel the same toward her as I used to."

"Sure. The same old story. You thought you was just a little too good for her, huh? Alright! What happened?"

"Well . . . we hadn't been getting along, see? I got to imagining that she . . . You know what I mean. We didn't get along . . . The other night I wanted to go for a ride. She wouldn't go. I begged and pleaded and coaxed. Oh, I was patient enough. I didn't want any trouble."

"Did she kick you?"
"No. She was just stubborn. Finally I got mad. I yelled: 'We're through for good this time. Believe me, I've put up with all I'm going to!' Then things seemed to go red, and I went after her with the first thing I could lay my hands on!"

"This heavy wrench, Kelly? The one marked Exhibit A?"

"Yes! Yes! That was it! It was terrible, but I did it! I went after her with that. Then I had to get rid of the body. I didn't want it lying around the house. After dark I dragged it down into the bushes by the railroad tracks. That night I couldn't sleep. And I worried all next day for fear someone would see her . . . you know, the body! That evening I sneaked down and moved her over to the Legislative Council, where I was sure she'd be found."

"The perfect crime, huh?"

"It might have been, Mr. Wolfe."
"Yeah? Well, Kelly, you're a rank amateur at crime! You know the law! Two hours after you left the body at the Council we'd found it, identified it, and knew the whole story! Now, I'll tell you what: I've given you an even break, another chance. Beat it, get the body and dispose of it properly. But I'm warning you: If we ever catch you again during an old railway body or even so much as a twisted fender, you'll get ten dollars and two days if I have anything to say to Wynne-Jones. Now get moving!"

A PRAYER

U.S. NAVAL ARRAY IN CUBA WATERS

ARGENTINE NOTE TO UNITED STATES

TENSE SITUATION

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 10.

THIRTY-NINE AMERICAN WARSHIPS ARE NOW CONCENTRATED IN CUBAN WATERS OR WITHIN A FEW HOURS OF HAVANA, AND WITH THE NEW REVOLUTIONARY REGIME UNDER DR. RAMON GRAU SAN MARTIN STRUGGLING AGAINST ODDS TO ASSERT ITS AUTHORITY, A HIGHLY TENSE SITUATION EXISTS.

Perfect order reigns for the moment, but outlook is causing apprehension, owing to the paradoxical situation in the Army in which the new government proposes that the highest rank shall be that of Colonel and that the sergeants shall choose the officers. Those chosen, however, refuse to serve and stand by Dr. Cespedes.

Talk of intervention by the United States continues, but feeling in South America is illustrated in a Note handed by the Argentine Government to the American Ambassador, welcoming President Roosevelt's ardent desire not to intervene in Cuba and pointing out that youthful nations can work out their own destiny if they are left to their own devices. The New York Herald's Washington correspondent interprets the Note as strong advice not to intervene in any circumstances and looking askance at the U.S. naval array in Cuban waters.

DR. SAN MARTIN'S STATEMENT

News from Norfolk, Virginia, shows that President Roosevelt is not relaxing his watch on the Cuban situation.

He conferred to-day with General Lee, the commander of the U.S. Marine post at Quantico, Virginia, and Commander Williams, the officer commanding the Marine Regiment which has been mobilised there for possible duty in Cuba.

The marines are prepared for immediate movement and should a call come, many of them will be transported to Cuba by aeroplane.

MORE WARSHIPS.

Meanwhile, nine more destroyers have been ordered to Cuba.

It is understood that the United States may refuse to accept Dr. San Martin as President of Cuba, regarding him as a product of revolution.

According to unofficial statements, the recognition of the existing Cuban regime will depend upon its ability to maintain order and to protect life and property.

AMERICA'S ATTITUDE.

President Roosevelt, who will avoid intervention if it is possible is determined to insist upon complete proof of the new regime's stability and control before granting recognition.

It is understood that the Administration is re-shuffling the naval ships in Cuban waters. The United States cruiser Bainbridge which has been lying in Havana Harbour has been ordered to Puerto Padre.

Five of the nine destroyers now on their way to Cuba have been ordered to Guantanamo, while the remainder will await further orders at Key West, Florida.

SAN MARTIN'S SPEECH.

Meanwhile, Dr. San Martin is still busy endeavouring to organise a government out of the existing political chaos.

He made a speech from the Presidential Palace to-day, in the course of which he said: "I shall honour all government obligations including public debts to the last penny."

"I swear to fulfil the revolutionary programme with the maximum of respect for all interests established here."

He stressed the desire of Cuba for friendship with the United States.

Despite the disapproval of Communist sympathies by the government committee, Dr. San Martin, in a statement to the United Press, voiced the same "anti-imperialistic" sentiments as the Communists, although in milder form.

REASONS CITED.

"All that the new regime asks of the United States is fair play and a chance to carry out our programme," he said.

"We overthrew Machado because he was a tyrant, and Cespedes because he was a puppet."

He also said that the new regime was determined to express themselves in the formulating of a new constitution, and not merely approve one elaborated at the American Embassy.

"Cuba is quieter than during the last eight years. We have no thought of repudiating international debts or treaties."

"The presence of American warships renders the task more difficult. This is hardly in accord with President Roosevelt's 'good neighbour' policy."

"The United States government is cautious about stepping in feeling that to do so would revive the rapidly dying bogey of American imperialism in Latin America."

The San Martin government has taken all steps in its power to prevent and quell sporadic violence, such as the seizure of sugar centrals.

At the suggestion of American Ambassador Sumner Welles, the government averted an incident by sending soldiers to the dock to insure the safe departure of Mr. Matthew V. Molanphy, American manager of the United Fruit Company, against whom students, workers and radicals demonstrated.

Unconfirmed reports said that several soldiers started an uprising at Camp Columbia, near Havana, but were shot and further trouble was suppressed.

The executive committee, in general charge of the government, includes:

Dr. Ramon Grau San Martin, University professor.

Dr. Guillermo Portela, professor.

Dr. Jose N. Irazarri, lawyer.

Sergio Cabo, newspaperman.

Portillo Franco, former banker.

SHIP'S COOK'S RUSE DETECTED

Mr. J. T. Prior, appearing on behalf of Lo Kau ship's cook, pleaded guilty before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning to a charge of placing unmanifested cargo, consisting of cloth, aboard the s.s. Kong Ning.

Mr. Prior—This man was taking these goods out of the Colony for a friend in Foochow. There is only a small amount of goods. I am instructed to ask particularly that the goods be not confiscated. He would rather pay a fine.

Ravenue Officer Grimmit—The prosecution is asking for confiscation in this case. The defendant was caught putting these rolls of cloth down the ventilator into the engine room. A further search of the engine room revealed some more packages.

Mr. Prior—The goods are not dutiable. It is only a question of manifestation.

The magistrate remarked there was a definite element of delinquency.

PEKING GLACIS INCIDENT

JAPANESE ASSAULT LEGATION LADY

Peking, Sept. 5. Foreign circles in Peking are very indignant over an outrageous attack made by armed soldiers of the Japanese Legation Guard on Miss Emmeline Arguello, private secretary to Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, the American Minister to China, while riding on the bridge-path round the Glacis yesterday.

The Japanese military, without troubling to notify the other Legations, or even to erect a notice-board, suddenly decided to stop all riding on their part of the Glacis during military exercises, merely handing riders a pencilled and unsigned note to this effect.

Miss Arguello, ignoring the note, continued to ride, but, on returning, she was surrounded by a dozen soldiers with fixed bayonets. One of the soldiers threw a large stone at the pony, others struck her on the arm, snatched away her riding cane and broke it. Others seized the pony's bridle and tried to drag Miss Arguello away.

Miss Arguello was saved from further violence by the intervention of Commandant Benoit-Guyod, Commandant of the French Legation Guard, who went to her assistance.

WHEN POLICE DUTY CEASES

Not Their Job to See Banishees Leave Colony

"The only thing we have not done is to see him out of the Colony. I submit, under the Ordinance, that it is not for us to see them out of the Colony," stated Inspector Vincent, in charging a Hoklo, Cheung Kwan, before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning, for disobeying a deportation order.

Inspector Vincent said the case was rather different from the usual banishment cases. On August 12 the defendant was discharged from gaol and was handed over to the Officer-in-Charge of the Deportation Office for banishment. A warrant was served on him, and he received a duplicate after which he disappeared from the office. He was not seen again until yesterday when he was arrested in Macdonnell Road. They had had many cases on record where the Police did not see the banishees out of the Colony.

After reading the Ordinance and the deportation order, the magistrate agreed that there was no provision that the man must be seen away. Apparently, in this case, the defendant had not left the Colony.

Inspector Vincent: We don't know that. We had special men looking for him since he disappeared from the office.

BOMBER MAKES CRASH LANDING

FIVE MEN IN NARROW ESCAPE

Manila, Sept. 9. When his motor failed at an altitude of 600 feet, Lieut. Thomas W. Steed succeeded in landing an army bomber in a cane field near Camp Clark yesterday, with only minor injuries to the crew personnel, although the plane was badly shaken and one of the wings was demolished.

The passengers were Lieut. G. W. R. Perry, Sergeant Charles O. Reed, Private David D. Davidson and Private Jack B. Griggs.

The bomber had come to Fort Stotsenburg from Nichols Field, and the enlisted men were getting some flying time. Circling near Clark Field the motor went dead, with Lieutenant Steed at the controls. He immediately manoeuvred towards a cane field, and from an altitude of only 600 feet, quick thinking was necessary to land the plane without a disastrous crash.

Landing on uneven ground a wing was crashed and those aboard were shaken up but not seriously hurt.

There was a clean bill of health for the Colony on Friday.

ALLEGED THEFT OF WATCH

MANAGING PARTNER FACES CHARGE

An allegation of theft by finding of a gold wrist watch, valued at over $200, at the Luk Hoi Tung Boarding House was made against Li Wal managing partner of the Li Chai Tong medicine shop, West Point, when he appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning. The case will be heard tomorrow morning.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan, for the defence, said that the defendant was arrested at 8 a.m. and as he had only just been instructed he would ask for a date to be fixed for the hearing and also to apply for bail.

Sub-Inspector Dredge said that the complainant resided at the Luk Hoi Tung Boarding House and at 11.30 last night went to the bathroom for a bath. He took off his wrist watch and had occasion to return to his room. On going back to the bathroom he found his watch missing. He informed the management and on enquiries being made an amah stated she saw the defendant going into the bathroom. She had asked him if he had seen a watch and he replied in the negative. Police were called in and a search of the defendant's goods in his cubicle revealed the watch.

Defendant was allowed bail of

WAS THE TEAM OVERTRAINING?

AUSTRALIA TOUR "NO GOOD"

All may be well and friendly on the surface in the ranks of America's Davis Cup players and the managerial forces, but behind the scenes there is a storm brewing, with a "new deal" an absolute certainty before the 1934 team is chosen.

In the first place, the opinion is general that the United States Lawn Tennis Association pulled the prize bonor of the year sending Ellsworth Vines and Wilmer Allison, the singles hopes, half way around the world to play the game all winter and spring in Australia. Not only did this junket provide a solid ten months of competition for the pair, tiring them mentally of tennis, if not physically, but it stirred up the opposition in Australia.

AUSTRALIAN TRIP "NO GOOD"

"The Australian trip was no good for us," Vines said with absolute conviction when the American squad returned after losing to Great Britain 4-1 in the inter-zone final round.

"We had too much tennis and we merely provided opposition against which the Australians, Jack Crawford and Vivian McGrath, developed their games and confidence. I don't think I'll ever play another winter of tennis like that."

George S. Prentice, captain of the team and against whom the heaviest criticism is thrown by the Americans, was over-trained and over-confident, agrees that was a mistake. But he denies that he meets his critics on the ground that the boys did too much practicing for the interzone matches and thus left their best tennis on the training courts.

BETTER THAT WE.

"Vines," he said, "played through Wimbledon, came to France, and did not touch a racket for four days. The boys practised only when they felt like it. They all did about the same amount of work. If Vines and Allison were overtrained, then why weren't George Lott and Johnny Van Ryan in the same fix? They not only were in perfect shape, but they played the finest, fastest, most perfect doubles to beat the English that I ever have been."

"Vines and Allison were in splendid condition, and they played fine tennis, but we simply ran into a set of circumstances that could not be beaten. Perry and Austin both thrive on the slow French courts while we like speed. We happened to hit them when they were the equal of any tennis players in the world. They beat us because they played better than we did. Instead of looking for alibis, we should extend credit where credit is deserved."

Just what changes will be made next year in America's conduct of its annual bid for the Davis Cup that left here in France's possession in 1927 are difficult to forecast. There is no scarcity of talent available. But there does seem a decided need for generalship and leadership of the challenging array.

International Polo at Shanghai.

AMERICA DEFEATED.

Shanghai, Sept. 10. Great Britain regained the International Polo Cup here today when the British team defeated an American side containing no less than three interport players.

The game was packed with thrills and was in doubt until the end of the over-time chukker.

The American team was leading in the last chukker, when, with seconds to play, Great Britain levelled the score.

In the seventh, the extra chukker, Great Britain scored the winning goal.

The crowd gave the victors an enthusiastic greeting when they rode

FOOTBALL UPSETS

ARSENAL HELD

(By "The Pilgrim")

By their surprising defeat of Leicester City on the mid-landers own ground on Saturday, Tottenham now take premier position in the First Division to which they were promoted this season.

This is the first match Leicester have lost at home and it indicates either that the virile defence, which they have been at some pains to build up, has not fulfilled expectations or that the Spurs leader Hunt, has infused match winning life into the forward line.

Manchester City created consternation among the punters by holding the Arsenal to a draw on the Highbury ground and in so doing emphasized their splendid team work. It will carry them far this season.

WEDNESDAY'S RETORT.

The Wednesday gave an apt retort to those critics who hinted that the club was in danger of falling below first division standard by getting the odd goal in five against Everton on the latter's ground. Birmingham conclusively defeated Middlesbrough—another away match—and Derby journeyed to Newcastle to share points with the Cup holders.

The Wanderers failed dismally before their own supporters conceding six goals to Sunderland. The latter are one of the youngest and best balanced sides in League football and are due for a bright season, whilst on the other hand the Wolves are taking serious risks with their defence. Both clubs are gambling with young players but with very different results.

STRUGGLING UNITED.

In the Second Division Preston and Notts County lost their unbeaten records in away encounters, Grimsby accounting easily for the former and Southampton taking the points by an odd goal against the County.

The United are still struggling and that is all that can be said. Burnley did well to wrest points from the Hammers who gave them very reluctantly at Upton Park. Crystal Palace visited Reading and satisfied their supporters by a goalless draw.

Newport fell before Aldershot, registering their second home loss. There were few surprises in the North section of the Third Division though New Brighton's profitable journey to Carlisle was not an assured thing.

Scottish football upset many coupons. Partick taking away a point from Clyde and Dundee taking both from Aberdeen. Celtic and Rangers divided the honours whilst the luckless Queen's Park fell again on their own ground, this time to Ayr United.

GOLF COMPETITION.

The fourth round of the second Summer Singles competition of the Happy Valley Golf Club was completed on Saturday afternoon, G. T. May, A. E. Clarke, H. H. Mundy and L. Goldman entering the semi-final round.

G. T. May (17) defeated A. G. Ursell (13) on the 19th green, and A. E. Clarke (14) defeated W. L. Alexander (17) 2 up. These two players will contest one semi-final. H. H. Mundy (10) defeated J. S. Dykes (13) 2 and 1 and L. Goldman (11) defeated S. T. Butlin (10) 8 and 7. Mundy and Goldman will meet in the other semi-final.

DECIDING GAME POSSIBLE

GREAT DISPLAY BY K.B.C.C.

NEXT WEEK'S VITAL GAME

(By "Veritas")

By their victory against Craigengower on Saturday, the Kowloon Bowling Green Club not only kept alive their interest in the destination of the second division championship of the bowls league, but made certain of at least one thing—whatever else happens they must finish runners-up.

It cannot be said that Craigengower gave a display worthy of champions. They were decisively beaten on all three rinks. On the other hand the Bowling Green played their best bowls of the season, excellent team work being noticeable.

Civil Service's prospects of keeping in the running were finally ruined by the Police who beat them with surprising ease, being ahead on all rinks.

The position is now clear. Craigengower must win against Civil Service next Saturday if they are to retain the championship. Their defeat would mean a deciding match with the Bowling Green Club, thus opening up the prospects of the Peninsula club achieving the "double."

INTERPORTERS ON VIEW.

The practice matches between the Interport rinks were somewhat disappointing. Very few of the players maintained usual form. The real exception was Raoul Luz, who, against what is generally regarded as the strongest of the Interport rinks, played inspired bowls, and led his man to a 28-7 victory.

The players appeared to be affected by the knowledge that they were more or less on trial and in endeavouring to put their best into the game, became over-anxious with unfortunate results. However, the matches had the benefit of allowing the rinks to develop team work and further practice games will do much towards cementing them into a strong team.

Picture shows the lawn bowls match between Kowloon Bowling Green and Craigengower in progress on Saturday. (Ming Yuen).

1934 OLYMPICS

ALREADY MAKING PREPARATIONS

French-Indo China is now in the midst of an intensive training for the 1934 Far Eastern Championship Games, according to report received by the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation. Thirty or more athletes from this country will come to Manila to make a bid for the Oriental athletic honours in May of next year.

The training of athletes for the races, jumps and possibly basketball and volleyball will begin next month under the direction of Army officers. There will be football elimination in Hanoi, Saigon and Hui for the purpose of selecting material for the football classes. The northern and southern districts of this country will also be represented.

ASSOCIATION FORMED.

The Sporting Federation of Tonkin which is directing the participation of French-Indo China has made advanced preparations in order to insure the success of the drive of this country to win some prestige in the meet. Arrangement were made with federation in Saigon so that an Olympic Association could be formed in French-Indo China. This was done because the participating unit is not permitted in the Far Eastern Olympics, but a country is recognized as a competitor, providing its entry is approved by the competing nations.

The idea of competing in the Far Eastern Athletic Association championship games was suggested by Count Boilel Latour, president of the world's olympic games, when he was in French-Indo China in December. The sports officials wrote to the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation and to Dr. Kishi, president of the Far Eastern Athletic Association regarding the rules and conditions.

Permission of the Governor General in French-Indo China to have the country take part in the meet was secured by the sports officials of that country.

The French Alliance Society in Manila will take care of the athletes during the sojourn in this city.

HAT WIMBLEDON FINAL

AN ANALYSIS

Helen Wills Moody's loss of her first tennis set in six years to Dorothy Round in the finals of the Wimbledon championships may have been due largely to the unfortunate incident of the linesmen in calling a decisive point against her, but the detailed analysis shows a relatively close match all the way.

Mrs. Moody's margin in games was 18 to 15, but she scored only 20 more points than Miss Round in the three sets. The baseline character of the American star's game is reflected by the fact that while Miss Round's winning strokes (aces and placements) were considerably greater, 31 to 10 in the second set, and 18 to 11 in the third, Mrs. Moody made only half as many errors ("nets" and "outs").

Miss Round won 12 and lost four service games while Mrs. Moody won 14 deuce games, including seven in the second set, but all four of the "love" games were won by the American.

"During the seven times Mrs. Moody has entered for the singles championship at Wimbledon," notes a British commentator, "she has lost altogether 105 games. Miss Round, in her eight years of competition, lost 101 games, but in two of those years, 1920 and 1921, Suzanne as the titleholder did not play through, competing only in the challenge match. Miss Round's best year was 1925, when she sacrificed only five games in five rounds. Here are the games lost by Mrs. Moody:

Year	Games	Year	Games
1924	27	1930	19
1927	39	1932	18
1928	19	1933	33
1929	16

Official Report Of Decision

Paris, Sept. 9. There has been much talk about Henri Cochet turning professional following his significant statement, "Professional? Yes, but I do not know when. I will become a professional the moment I go on the court to play in a match for which I shall be paid. If I play against W. T. Tilden in the match between Tilden's group and French professionals, it will naturally be as a professional."

Henri Cochet has definitely turned professional.

ELLSWORTH VINES ALSO.

New York, Sept. 9. It is authoritatively understood that H. E. Vines is also turning professional soon.—Reuter.

THE NEWCOMERS.

One naturally turned eyes on the Club's newcomers, reduced at the last minute to Charlie Wright and "Bunny" Bickford. Wright, I thought, gave promising glimpses of a brainy footballer. He was at half speed all through, and seeing that he has been out of the game for at least two years, gave a very good account of himself.

Bickford was not overworked and it was impossible to judge whether he has improved since last season or not. There were flashes of his old time cleverness, but the fruits of his work were seldom realized.

Howe, I think, is going to be a great leader this season, and he, with Pardoe, were really the only players to stand up to the exhausting conditions and give consistent performances.

The Artillery seem to have found excellent deputies for Bryant, Moore, Gough and Walker, and the general balance of the team left a favourable impression. Allen was magnificent and Comby is heading for representative honours if he maintains his form.

The results were: H.K. Club 2 Royal Artillery 3 Club "A" 2 R. Artillery 1

SWEEPS THROUGH

AS THE RESULT OF ONE OF THE MOST BRILLIANT PERFORMANCES OF HIS CAREER, F. J. PERRY, ENGLAND'S TENNIS HERO OF THE YEAR, IS THE NEW SINGLES CHAMPION OF THE UNITED STATES.

To-day, he accomplished what no other player has been able to do during the last twelve months—he beat Jack Crawford, holder of the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles, in the final of a national championship by 6-3, 11-13, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1.

By so doing he prevented Crawford from establishing a new world's record in lawn tennis. Crawford required only to win to-day to secure all four major tennis titles of the world.

Incidentally, this is the first time in his remarkable career that Perry has won a national singles title.

Perry staged an amazing recovery just when Crawford appeared to have the match in his pocket. A terrific second set went to the Australian after 24 games and he also won the third giving him a lead of two sets to one.

But those who expected to see Perry crack up in the face of such a disadvantage were given the surprise of their lives.

The Englishman took command of the game from that stage and swept through Crawford to win the next two sets with the loss of but one game.

It was an astonishing metamorphosis, emphasised all the more in that Crawford was playing really great tennis up to the end of the third set and had given not the slightest inkling that he would wilt before Perry's attack.

It was noticeable that although contesting every point in the first three sets, Perry was playing well within himself, yet very few spectators, and Crawford even more so, anticipated that the Englishman had such reserves on which to call.

A REAL ARTIST.

Perry waited for the psychological moment before launching his attack to which Crawford could find no reply. The winning of the second and third sets had quite obviously demanded much of Crawford's stamina, and when Perry started his deep driving and volleying campaign, the Australian found he could not keep up with the pace.

Crawford was the real artist in the first three sets. Beautiful shots flowed from his racket and he appeared to be playing with supreme confidence.

But Perry's stubbornness, although insufficient to save the second and third sets, had its ultimate value.

It forced Crawford to sustain the rallies and to wait longer than usual for his winning shots. That was why, when Perry eventually found the opportunity to take the initiative, he met with less resistance than one would have expected.

CRAWFORD GOES TO PIECES.

In a description of the match Reuter says that Perry's victory, although unexpected, was well deserved.

He won the first set by hard driving to the corners, and following up with kills at the net.

The Englishman led 3-1 in the second set, but Crawford rallied and won this and the third set by brainy tennis.

F. J. Perry brings off a great smash.

He brought off some magnificent backhand drives and volleys which continually beat Perry.

Thereafter Perry could do nothing wrong and Crawford nothing right.

PERRY'S SERVICE.

Perry's service was terrific. In the last two sets, in which Crawford seemed listless.

A strong wind bothered the players and caused numerous double faults.

It must be said that Crawford hurt his knee when he fell in his semi-final match against Shields, but how much, if at all, influenced the result it is difficult to say.

Perry's performances since Wimbledon have given the lie direct to the suggestion that he was stale and over-played, and a world's ranking list based on the records of the 1933 summer, must, in view of Perry's Davis Cup feats and his latest success, earn him second place to Crawford.

The British invasion of America was a complete success. In the semi-finals, Crawford eliminated Frank Shields in straight sets and Perry did likewise to Stoecken.

Englishman, although gratified at the achievement of Fred Perry, will regret that Crawford, by far the outstanding player of the year, just failed in his quest for a world's record which would probably have stood for many years.

OVERSEAS VICTORIES.

This is the second time in the history of the American championship that the title has been won by an Englishman, and the first time since 1928 that it has fallen to an overseas player.

H. L. Doherty, one of the most famous tennis players the world has ever known was the first Englishman successfully to visit America in quest of the championship.

He won it in 1903. It was not until 23 years later that the title again went out of the country. Then Rene Lacoste, the Frenchman captured it and he retained it the following year. In 1928 Henri Cochet won the title for the first and only time.

SWIMMING GALA.

Lange Breaks 220 Yards Record

The Y. M. C. A. swimming gala on Saturday night saw H. Lange, who holds the Hongkong 220 yards free style record, clip 6.2/5 secs. from his 1932 Y. M. C. A. record of 2 mins. 40.3/5 secs.

A. G. Donn, the holder of the 50 yards title, was again successful in his event, when he beat W. T. Campbell by a touch.

The Men's 100 yards breast stroke event was a failure, as W. Schreuder, the holder, failed to make his appearance, and Fowler had no option, under the rules of the championship, but to swim the distance alone.

The diving event was keenly contested, and some exceedingly good dives were witnessed. A. Morrison and R. Goldman tied for first place with 49 points each, and Morrison was announced the winner by two points after a dive-off.

In the Ladies' 50 yards aggregate handicap (semi-final), Miss S. Dalziel annexed first place in the first heat, with Mrs. M. Read a close second, and Miss M. Lane was the winner of the second heat with Miss J. Shoemith second.

"It's Great To Be Alive", the new

screen, has the stellar role, and is surrounded by a large group of per-

beautiful women of the Hollywood

The story concerns itself with the strange situation of one solitary male
in a world of millions of women. All men, but this one, are wiped off the globe, and the conjecture about "the last man on earth" becomes a reality.
The fact this one man happens to be a popular aviator who has been cast away on a desert island, is said to contribute heavily to the hilarity.

The supporting cast, headed by Gloria Stuart, Edna May Oliver, and Herbert Mundin, includes Joan Marsh, Dorothy Burgess, Emma Dunn, Edward Van Sloan and Robert Gröig.
More than 10,000 of Hollywood's most gorgeous girls take part in the production which launches Raul Roulien on a career of American screen stardom.

"Peg O' My Heart"

Marion Davies gives the finest performance of her entire career in the delightful "Peg O' My Heart," which opened yesterday at the Queen's Theatre.

The talking picture version of the play that has been acclaimed in the theatre for more than twenty years, has a freshness and sparkle all its
own. There is not a lagging moment or a flaw in the simple clarity of its sweet romance. It is just the kind of picture people want to see—these hectic and troubled days.

Miss Davies' Peg is individual and not patterned from the stage creature. Yet her interpretation of the role is none the less genuine and familiar in character. All the heyden
charm of the little Irish lass is intact.

The film marks the debut as a leading man of Onslow Stevens, who gives promise of filling a new berth in the popularity of feminine fans.
Stevens has a distinct personality of his own that registers strong in a quiet and repressed manner of performance.

"The Man From Toronto"

Story value apart and you can take it that "The Man From Toronto"
coming on Thursday to the King's Theatre, is one of the wittiest and funniest films seen for a very long time the new Jessie Matthews picture, which Sinclair Hill has made for Gaumont, affords us some delightful glimpses of rural Sussex.

Here is the English countryside as
we know it, unchanging, unspoiled country such as the nerve-wrecked town dweller occasionally dreams of.
Amberley, in Sussex, was the location chosen for the choicer shots, and, as can be imagined, the location of movie camera and recording apparatus created no end of diversion in the locality.

Sinclair Hill has collected a number of the quaintest possible types
for this most amusing picture. For example, the village inn, with its

LONDON PAPER HITS AT APATHY

London, Sept. 10.

Following the release of the Nan-chang captives, the Sunday Referee
draws attention to the case of the British family, Mr. and Mrs.
Edwards and four children, who were carried off from the Breaker
Point lighthouse, near Swatow, in March 1932.

It also refers to the case of the Rev. H. S. Ferguson, a missionary
who was kidnapped near the Tibetan border and points out that no news has been received of either in the past three months.

The journal criticises "the apathy with which kidnapping appears to have been treated" and understands the question will be raised in Parliament when it re-assembles.—Reuter.

MINISTER'S RETURN TO TOKYO

Nanking, Sept. 9.

It is announced that Chiang Tao-ting, Chinese Minister to Tokyo, who is at present in Kuling, will return to Tokyo in the near future.—Reuter.

It closely approximates to the real thing than anything so far done on the screen. His types are so perfectly natural that one suspects them to have been hired locally for the day. If, on the other hand, the patrons of this village inn are professionals, then their performance cannot but be regarded as other than a triumph of characterisation.

"TRUNK" MURDER

REMEDIOS BROTHERS LEAVE FOR MACAO

Shanghai, Sept. 9.
Patricio dos Remedios, the self-confessed murderer of the hapless Choy Ling, and his brother, Jose dos Remedios, have left for Hongkong aboard the Messageries Maritimes liner, Felix Roussel.
They will be taken to Macao to stand their trial for the murder.

The murder was committed on the night of August 4, and was one of the most brutal in the history of Shanghai crime. According to a confession made by Patricio, he murdered Choy Ling with an ice breaker. Later, he packed her body in a black trunk and sent it to Kobe, aboard the Shanghai Maru.

When no one came to claim the trunk, and the man to whom it was addressed could not be found, customs officials forced it open and made a gruesome discovery.

A Russian and a Japanese were suspected of the crime before the trail of evidence led to the Remedios Brothers. Soon after it was established that Choy Ling was Patricio's common law wife, the brothers were arrested.

In making his confession Patricio cleared his brother of any complicity in the crime. He said Jose knew nothing of it until the trunk was aboard the Shanghai Maru.

LUCKY ESCAPE.

CAR TURNS OVER AT CASTLE PEAK.

Four occupants of a private car had an alarming experience when the Morris Sedan in which they were travelling skidded and turned over on its side in the Castle Peak Road about 2.30 p.m. yesterday.

The car belonged to Mr. Cheung Yuk-sai, and was being driven by his private driver, Lau Hing. Two other friends were in the car at the time of the mishap, which took place near Ping Shan. Except for a severe shaking, the occupants of the car did not receive any serious injuries.

Efforts were made to put the car back on to the road again, but this proving futile the party returned to Kowloon, and the abandoned car was left to be righted later. The car was but slightly damaged, but all the windows were broken.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

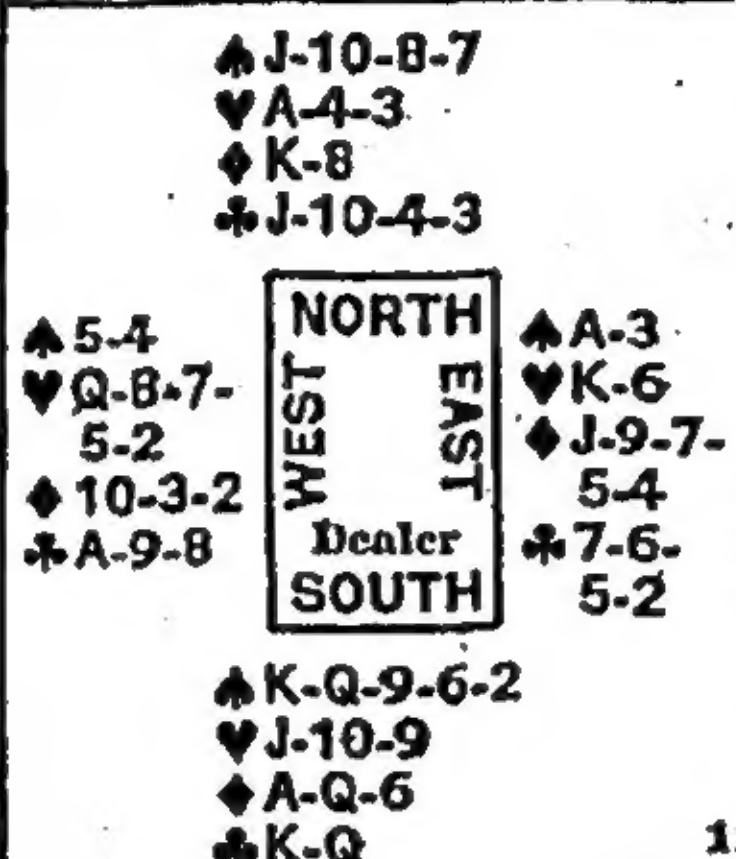

A hand which seemed very troublesome to duplicate players occurred recently in the Seventh Annual Connetut Lake Tournament, held at Connetut Lake, Pa. Of 12 North and South pairs who played the hand, all but one arrived at a contract of four spades.

The Bidding

In each case South opened with one spade, North assisted the suit, and South re-bid to four. This appeared to be perfectly normal bidding, and the hand seemed well suited for play at spades, with five in one hand and four in the other.

The Play

However, the four spade contract could be defeated by an almost routine defence. West opened his fourth best heart, which was ducked in the dummy, and East won with the king. He returned a heart to dummy's ace, and went up with the ace of spades immediately when a small spade was returned from dummy.

He must now find some way to get his partner in the lead to give him a heart ruff, and selected a club as offering the best possibility. West won with the ace of clubs and returned a small heart, allowing East to make his three of spades and defeating the contract one trick.

Only one pair arrived at three no trump, which was the correct contract and could easily be made—in fact, the hand was played with North as declarer, and he succeeded in making five no trump. East opened a diamond, which was won in the South with the queen, declarer wishing to give the impression that he was taking a finesse.

Anticipating possible difficulty with entries, he elected to unblock the club suit at once, and led the king of clubs from dummy. West won with the ace and returned a diamond, as the declarer hoped he would. From this point the opponents could take only the ace of spades, and the declarer took four spades, three diamonds, three clubs and the ace of hearts, scoring five no trump.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, HONGKONG

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, yesterday.

The Golden Text was: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth for ever: and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations." (Psalms 135:13).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "...Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matt. 6:19-21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sensual treasures are laid up 'where moth and rust doth corrupt. Mortality is their doom. Sin breaks in upon them, and carries off their fleeting joys. The sensualist's affections are as imaginary, whimsical, and unreal as his pleasures. Falsehood, envy, hypocrisy, malice, hate, revenge, and so forth, steal away the treasures of Truth" (p.211).

CRIPPLED BEGGAR.

REMOVED FROM HONGKONG HOTEL PAVEMENT

A pitiful scene was witnessed in the Central Police Court, on Saturday morning, when a Chinese male cripple, aged 35, huddled on a small cart, was carried into Court, and charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones with begging in Pedder Street.

Another man, aged 47, stated to be an earth cooler, was charged with aiding and abetting, and was fined $10 or fourteen days.

Sub-Inspector Smith stated the cripple was drawn about by the second defendant. He was taken off the cart and placed on the pavement outside the Hongkong Hotel to beg.

His Worship said he would deal severely with those who helped the cripple to beg. In this way he would discourage others from pulling the cart about. He would fine the cripple one dollar, and suggested that he be sent to the Tung Wah hospital.
